EUGENE V. DEBS, SOCIALIST LEADER, IS DEAD

COX HITS AT RIVAL PARTY SLUSH FUNDS

Points Out That Predictions of Six Years Ago Have Become Reality

WOULD READJUST DEBTS

Former Governor Believes Allies Should Not Make Full Payment

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1926, by Post Pub. Co.
Dayton, Ohio—Six years ago the men who now are seeking re-election to the United States senate were swept into office by the same landslide which overwhelmed James M. Cox, Democratic nominee for the presidency. Mr.
Cox could not at that time convince the voters that they had better not elect Warren Harding but in the six years that have passed since then he has taken consolation in the fact that many of the things he said then have been corroborated by Republican testimony.

For instance, Mr. Cox declared in 1920 that fully fifteen millions of dollars would be spent to elect the Republican ticket and that he believed he was only "half-stating it." Since then Republicans have testified to nearly five millions of dollars spent in the primary campaigns of only two states, and several of the larger contributors have insisted that this is the modern cost of campaigning.

"FUNDS WERE INVENTED"

"I said six years ago," said former Governor Cox Wednesday, "that sums such as these were not contributed but invented and that they were invested to defeat governmental propensity. Recently a federal court in the Daugherty case has revealed some of the political advantages which were employed by Republicans to rush through doubtful claims involving many millions of dollars. That is the price that has been paid for the election of a political party which began in 1920 contained some of the most disgraceful happenings in American history—and I do not believe the full story has as yet been disclosed."

THROUGH WITH OFFICE

The former Governor made it clear that he was through with public office.

"I am, of course, not active," he said, "in politics. In our own state
I am going to introduce Senator Pomeroy to the legislature here soon.
But, frankly, I am skeptical as to how much interest the people do take in elections. We have had the smallest registration of both parties in many years. I'm not surprised. When a United States senator like Frank E.
Watts can vote to exonerate New-comb, and declare before the senate that Daugherty is "as clean as a hound's tooth" and refuse to vote to permit
an investigation of campaign expenditures in the senatorial campaign—
and yet can be presented as the Republican nominee, especially since he is in the seat of the man who was nominated Harding at Chicago, then I wonder whether it matters to the average man who holds public office."

"I believe for instance," he said
"that it would have been a bet
in the seat of the war debts not to promise cancellation but to assure our allied friends that the settlements we ask them to ratify are tentative and are susceptible of readjustment. Just think of it, our grandchildren will hardly live to see the last dollar collected from France and Great Britain and Italy if the present
basis of settlement is insisted upon.
Shall we collect the last dollar and for years to come build up an ill will that will be reflected in diminishing purchases of our goods?"

AUTOMOBILE AND STREET CAR COLLIDE

Considerable damage resulted to an automobile driven by Mrs. Theodore Frank, 601 W. College-ave, at 430
Wednesday afternoon when the machine collided with a street car at Lawrence and State-sts.

Mrs. Frank, according to police reports, was driving south on State and was turning to go east on Lawrence when she hit a local street car.

The right rear tire of the automobile was punctured, one fender bent and the running board damaged, reports say. Mrs. Frank escaped injury.

WAUPACA INCOME TAX
BOARD MEETS MONDAY

The income tax board of review for Waupaca county will meet in the Waupaca courthouse Monday morning. It was announced Thursday by Leo J. Toonen, income assessor for this district. At that time complaints will be heard and adjustments taken under consideration, Mr. Toonen said.

The Outagamie board has adjourned
but will probably hold another session before the annual meeting of the county board of supervisors.

Little Damage Done By Last Storm In Florida

Miami, Fla.—(P)—Miami Thursday
apparently had suffered no damage
from a 90-mile gale which blew here
for several hours Wednesday night.

Warned Wednesday by government
weather bureau, residents fled to public buildings for refuge from the storm which was expected. A rising barometer at 3 o'clock Thursday morning,
however, and a diminishing in the force of the wind and sea caused police to believe all danger had passed,
and the people were advised to return to their homes.

MANY LEFT CITY
Following warnings Wednesday
hundreds of Miami residents began an exodus and northbound automobiles filled highways leading out of Miami, while railroad stations were packed with others awaiting passage.

WATSON AIDED BY KLANSMEN, WITNESS SAYS

Indiana Senator Denies Statements Made to Senate Committee

Indianapolis—(P)—Senator James
E. Watson, recuperating in a hospital here from an automobile accident
Thursday telegraphed, senator James
A. Reed at Chicago, asking the chairman of the senatorial investigation committee to bring to Indianapolis
the hearing into charges of political corruption in Indiana.

Chicago—(P)—Political activities of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana, described in part by Hugh P. Emmons of South Bend, former exalted cyclops
who was the subject of further inquiry
Thursday by the senate campaign funds committee.

Questioned for more than three hours Wednesday by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, Emmons testified that the Klan in his state was supporting the candidacies of Senators Watson and Robinson, Republicans.
He declared that Klan officials had told him that Walter Bossert of Indianapolis, a prominent lawyer, was grand dragon early this year because he would not "go down the line" on the Watson candidacy.

DEMANDED SUPPORT
The former Klansman charged that
W. Lee Smith, the present grand dragon of the Klan, has $100,000 in debts and would support Senator Watson and warned him that if he turned "traitor" he would "go down the line."

In beginning his recital before the committee Emmons quoted Dr. Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan, as saying the Klan owed a debt to Senator Watson because of his assistance in the seating of Senator Mayfield, Democrat, Texas. This Senator Emmons said was described by Evans as "one of the best Klansmen in the United States."

Senator Watson, speaking from a hospital bed in Indianapolis Wednesday night, called Emmons' testimony
"so preposterous in the main that it really requires but slight refutation."

Senator Mayfield also issued a statement at Galveston characterizing Emmons' testimony as "a gross fabrication. Before going into the Indiana situation the committee virtually concluded its inquiry into the Illinois campaign."

AIR LINER FORCED DOWN
IN SEA; CREW RESCUED

Follstone, England—(P)—Ten passengers and the crew of an air liner enroute from Croydon to Paris were rescued Thursday when the plane landed in distress in the sea off this place.

They "Fall"
For It

Right now at this time of the "Fall" is the time to advertise Stoves. People certainly "Fall" for stove offerings in the "Household Goods"
for sale column.

Mrs. Chas. Hammer, 1503 N.
Clark st., who recently advertised a stove for sale, states that one day was sufficient to run the advertisement—15 inquiries being received. The stove was disposed of at the price asked.

ported in addition to the loss of life,
the 120 mile gale struck Key West late Wednesday, where it raged for four hours. While street signs were blown down and windows smashed, no casualties were reported.

ONE MAN KILLED
The barometer reached a low of 29.25 at Miami and a 90 mile gale and heavy seas lashed the coast. A lull in the wind came at 1 o'clock in the morning. All telephone wires were down between Miami and West Palm Beach.

One man was killed here when struck by a sign blown down by the high wind.
Fears were felt at Key West for the American schooner J. K. Mitchell, last heard from Sept. 2, when she sailed from Tampa for Porto Rico with a cargo of lumber. An S. O. S. call was picked up at Key West Wednesday night from an unidentified vessel.

HOLD WRIGHT WITH DANCER IN MINNESOTA

Noted Wisconsin Architect Is Arrested in Cottage
at Lake

Baraboo—(P)—Frank Lloyd
Wright, internationally known architect, will fight extradition to Wisconsin, Sheriff H. C. Netzell of Sauk-co was informed Thursday by authorities at Minneapolis. Sheriff Netzell said he would not leave for Minneapolis until he heard further word from Minneapolis. A hearing will be held before the governor of Minnesota.

Minneapolis—(P)—Frank Lloyd
Wright, internationally known architect, and his companion, Mrs. Olga Milanoff, a dancer, were held in the county jail here Wednesday for Wisconsin authorities.

Mrs. Milanoff's 9-year-old daughter Svetlana, and her 8 months old child, claimed by Wright as his own,
were under care in the children's ward at the jail.

Warrants charging adultery have been issued in Wisconsin on complaint of Valdemar Hinzemeyer of Chicago, the dancer's divorced husband, who also seeks custody of Svetlana.

HELD WITHOUT CHARGE
Until formal warrants are served the architect and his companion will be held without charge on telegraphic request that resulted in arrest and will not be admitted to bail, authorities said.

Wright, the dancer, and the two children were taken into custody by police at Wildhurst, Lake Minnetonka, 20 miles southwest of here, where they had resided since Sept. 7, while a search for them was conducted in several states and in Mexico.

When police entered the cottage,
where architect lived under the name of "Richardson," he was engaged in dictating to a stenographer the last chapter of the first volume of an autobiography.

After a short conference with the two deputy sheriffs, who gained admittance to the cottage by telling the maid they desired to see Mr. Richardson, Wright admitted his identity and went along with one of the officers.

MANY CITIZENS SEE
QUEEN OF RUMANIA

Marie Goes to Sesqui-Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia

New York—(P)—Having received the homage of some of America's most prominent citizens, who marched past an improvised throne, many of them
kissing her hand, Queen Marie of Rumania, Thursday turned her attention to the Philadelphia Sesqui-Centennial exposition of America's independence.

General John J. Pershing was the first of 700 who were presented to the queen at a reception in the Ritz Carlton hotel Wednesday night. The line formed in the grand ballroom, which had been converted into a colorful autumnal forest decorated with Rumanian flags.

Her son, Prince Nicholas and daughter,
Princess Elena, and half a dozen others were in the receiving line with Queen Marie. After presentations and the supper in the dining room the guests returned to the ballroom for dancing. The queen does not dance
but Prince Nicholas and Princess Elena took part and apparently enjoyed it immensely.

The reception was given by the society of the Friends of Rumania.

25 ARE KILLED BY HURRICANE ABOUT HAVANA

1,800 Injured and Damage Is Set at $30,000,000 in Heavy Storm

Havana—(P)—The toll of the Caribbean hurricane which struck Havana
Wednesday was estimated Thursday at 25 to 30 dead, 1,800 injured and $30,000,000 damage.

The list of casualties issued by the municipality contained no names of Americans. The addresses of the victims indicated that they lived in the poorer sections of Havana.

Communication with all parts of the republic was interrupted. No definite reports had been received of the extent of the damage in the provinces of Matanzas, Pinarol, Rio and Havana, over which the hurricane passed.

MANY HOUSES WRECKED
Many Americans, residing in Mariano and other suburbs, forewarned of the approach of the storm, had come into Havana Tuesday night to escape it. Many houses were wrecked in Mariano, where also is situated
the Cuban race course.

It is believed that nearly all the buildings in Havana suffered damage,
but few of them collapsed. The monument erected by Cuba for the 256
Americans who were killed in the explosion which sank the United States battleship Maine in Havana Harbor in 1898 was razed. Only the base and two ten inch guns, relics of the battleship, remain.

DAMAGE IN HARBOR
The heaviest damage occurred in the port of Havana where two steamers, five schooners, forty fishing vessels, numerous launches and two barges were sunk. Four steamers and one schooner were seriously damaged.
The Havana Coal company's elevator was blown down. A large mass of twisted steel Thursday. Three large docks and many smaller ones were wrecked and all the others were damaged.

Most of the persons killed were struck by falling walls or flying debris. After the storm had passed out over the golf of Mexico, the streets were littered with electric light and telephone wires, signs, parts of roofs,
sheet iron shutters trees and balcony
railings wrecked loose by the wind.

DRUNKEN DRIVER IS SENTENCED TO JAIL

Can't Pay $50 Fine and Court Turns Him Over to County Sheriff

The thirtieth drunken driver to be brought into municipal court since last Jan. 1, pleaded guilty before Judge Theodore Berg on Thursday and was fined $50 and costs.

According to the complaint issued through a deputy sheriff Henry Hel-
ling, the defendant,
was operating an automobile while in toxicated in the village of Little Chute late Wednesday night.

In default of the money wherewith to pay his fine and costs Mr. Helling was remanded to the county jail under a 60 day sentence. Judge Berg also stipulated that Helting is not to drive a machine for six months from the date of sentence. The defendant is a married man with several children, it was brought out.

His court by Judge Berg said in passing sentence, "is forced to remand
this man to the county jail regardless of his personal circumstances for drunken driving is going to be discouraged in so far as possible in this county."

WIRE TICKS

New York—(P)—Nina Wilcox Pot-
terman's defense in a suit over a note for $3,000, is that the plaintiff, John her in her divorce from R. J. Sanderson by collusion. Schwartz denies this. She finally obtained a divorce in Florida

after a decree was vacated in Rhode Island.

Cambridge, Mass.—The will of Mrs.

C. H. SNIDER DIES AT RELATIVE'S HOME

Apoplexy Causes Death of Prominent Restaurant
Owner

C. H. Snider, 60, proprietor of Snider's restaurant, 227 E. College-ave, died at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of Frank Heise, a farmer living between Merrill and Antioch.
Mr. and Mrs. Snider left here early Wednesday morning to visit with Mr.
and Mrs. Heise, who are relatives of Mrs. Snider.

Mrs. Snider was driving the car and he was taken ill on the road. He managed to reach the Heise home and at supper and retired shortly after.
Mrs. Snider went into the bedroom at 8 o'clock to inquire about his condition and found him dead. Death was caused by apoplexy.

The body will be returned to Appleton and will lie in state at the Knights of Pythias hall after Thursday noon. Funeral services will be conducted by the Pythians Saturday afternoon. Mr. Snider is survived by his widow and one sister in Oklahoma.

He was born in Kansas and came to Appleton about 25 years ago. For the first five years he managed a restaurant at Appleton Junction.
Then for the next year he engaged in the taxi business but sold out and opened a restaurant.

For the last 20 years he has operated Snider's restaurant at various locations on College-ave. In December, 1921, he moved his restaurant to its present location. Mr. Snider is the oldest restaurant operator in the city.

His new home at the corner of W.
Prospect-ave and E. Pierce-ave will be finished in a few weeks.
Mr. Snider was a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Elks and the Rotary club.

500 MARINES TO GUARD
MAIL IN CHICAGO ZONE

Chicago—(P)—A detachment of 500 marines will arrive here Friday and will be immediately assigned to guard
the United States railway mails in the Chicago zone, it was disclosed here Thursday.

The soldiers will be disposed throughout the zone which includes St. Paul, Omaha, St. Louis, Cincinnati and other midwestern cities and their great industrial districts.

PRISON REFORMER DIES
AFTER HEART ATTACK

Auburn, N. Y.—(P)—Thomas Mott Osborne, noted for his activities in behalf of prison reform, is dead. Mr.
Osborne was stricken on the street
by heart disease Wednesday night.

Mr. Osborne won his chief note in formation of the mutual welfare leagues for convicts and his other activities for the prison population.

Electric Light Invented
By Edison 47 Years Ago

West Orange, N. J.—(P)—Thursday was the forty-seventh birthday of the electric light. Thomas A. Edison who invented it, is convinced that his invention blazes the way to universal peace.

"Invention has not led to war," he said. "Invention has produced a reasoning and a questioning age. People are becoming, because of the changes brought about by invention,
more intelligent and will not stand for exploitation by emperors and kings and societies. There is more reasoning and questioning today than ever before. We are in the process of discarding those things which in the past have been breeders of war and oppression.

The field is unlimited. If I were to begin my career over again I would turn to electric light, heat and chemical reactions."

Mr. Edison took time from his work to recall the days that followed his discovery that a loop of carbonized sewing thread, sealed in a bulb from which the air had been pumped, and connected with electric current, would burn for 48 hours. On New Year's Eve, 1879, 8,000 persons traveled to Menlo Park to view the amazing new lamp.

Much has been done since that day
in developing electricity, but even more remains to be done, he declared.
The inventor's talk is spotted with the word "cost." His energies are constantly directed toward reduction of cost so that the benefits of invention may be available to more people.

The first hydro-electric plant in the world was erected and started in Appleton just three years after the first demonstration of the electric light.
This first light plant in the world has only five customers, all within a mile of the plant.

WILL BREAKS IN STRAIN OF LONG ILLNESS

Socialist Presidential Candidate Was Near 71st Birthday

Chicago—(P)—The body of Eugene
V. Debs, the aged Socialist leader who died in a suburban sanitarium Wednesday night, was returned Thursday
to his lifelong home in Terre Haute, Ind.

The utmost simplicity surrounded the departure of the fallen leader. His body was encased in a simple, gray coffin, without ornate fittings and that was placed inside a plain oak box.
The body was accompanied by only members of the family who were at his bedside when Mr. Debs died.

Chicago—(P)—Eugene V. Debs died Tuesday night at his 71st birthday, coming out of this strange halfway between life and death for only a few minutes Sunday during which he
motioned to his wife for a pencil and
in a feeble scrawl scratched out "V. E.
Debs" on the lines "I am the master of my fate, I am the captain of my soul." Friends explained that the verse, written by the English author
in a hospital was his lifelong source of inspiration.

Funeral services will be held at Terre Haute, Ind., his birthplace Friday or Saturday after which the body will be taken to Indianapolis for cremation. The Terre Haute services
probably will be public.

DEBTS HENRY'S POEM

Debs' sank into a co. a last Saturday, coming out of this strange halfway between life and death for only a
few minutes Sunday during which he
motioned to his wife for a pencil and
in a feeble scrawl scratched out "V. E.

SUFFERED BREAKDOWN
Debs suffered a nervous breakdown
a month ago and was brought to an Elmhurst sanitarium for rest and treatment. His advanced years and the heart disease he had been forced to fight off virtually throughout his life left him with little resistance, and kidney disease, adding its complication several weeks ago, tipped the scales completely against him.

Dr. H. O. Wiseman, attending physician gave chronic myocarditis as the cause of death.

Mr. Debs was dominated by two important factors in life. He loved his fellow men and remained firm in his convictions, suffering the consequences, but still upholding the principles for which he fought. While in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., an interviewer asked what had been his greatest experience in prison life
and he replied:

"LOVE IS OMNIPOTENT"

"I have discovered that love is omnipotent. All the forces on earth cannot prevail against it. Hatred, war, cruelty, greed and lust must all give way before it. It will overthrow all tyrannies. It will empty all prisons.
It will not only emancipate the human race eventually but to a great extent it lifts us individually above
the struggle while we are in the thick of the fight for human brotherhood."

WANT DELAY IN SENATE PROBE ON WEST COAST

Oregon Senator Requests Delay of Inquiry Until After Election

Chicago—(P)—Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, telegraphed Chairman Reed of the Senate campaign funds committee Thursday that he would prefer to delay the inquiry into the Washington state political campaign till after the election on Nov.
2.

The Oregon senator, who is a member of the committee, explained that he did not desire to interrupt his speaking campaign. Samuel Sumner, Republican state chairman in Washington, has telegraphed Senator Reed that a large campaign fund is being expended for A. Scott, Bullitt, Democrat, senatorial opponent of Senator Jones, Republican. Bullitt has denied this charge.

Senator Reed telegraphed Senator McNary, urging that he begin the investigation at once. The chairman also sent a message to Senator King,
Democrat, Utah, who is at Salt Lake City, asking him to conduct the inquiry if Senator McNary found himself unable to go ahead.

WATCH OHIO CAMPAIGN
Columbus, O.—(P)—The United States senate's election expenditure investigating committee was formally called upon Thursday to "keep a close watch" on expenditures in the Ohio campaign with a view to conducting a "careful and sweeping" investigation immediately after the election.

The request was made by the Democratic state chairman, Thomas E. Dye, in a letter to Senator James Reed of Missouri, chairman of the committee,
who is conducting an investigation in Illinois.

Mr. Kuhlmann declares that he then informed Mr. Lorenz that he did not know that Mr. Zimmerman was a member of the Klan, and refused to sign an affidavit. He further alleges that Mr. Lorenz returned with "C. M. Kaempfer," member of the Milwaukee election commission,
and "brought great pressure to bear,"
and that he then signed an affidavit which he says had been previously prepared by Mr. Lorenz.

PLEADS IGNORANCE
According to Mr. Kuhlmann's new affidavit, Mr. Lorenz returned and informed him the first affidavit was not satisfactory and that it was not desired that his affidavit be acknowledged before Mr. Lorenz as a notary and "should be acknowledged before a stranger."

Mr. Kuhlmann declares he was then urged to sign a second affidavit
the contents of which he had not read, "nor did" he "know what it contained."

Commenting on the situation, Mr.
Zimmerman declared Wednesday night the second affidavit by Kuhl-mann "is conclusive evidence of the dirtiest and most damnable conspiracy between the Madison ring, the Ku Klux Klan and Charles B. Perry, and that it exposes the most reprehensible political intrigue ever perpetrated upon a Wisconsin election by any political machine in the history of the state."

I. C. S. STUDENTS OBSERVE SCHOOL'S 35TH ANNIVERSARY

Correspondence School Pupils Decide to Organize Fraternity

The thirty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the International Correspondence schools was celebrated by students of the Green Bay district Tuesday night at the city hall here. Students from Appleton, Little Chute, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Neenah, Menasha and Brillion attended the meeting which was part of a world-wide celebration for International Correspondence school students and graduates.

Edwin S. Godfrey was the principal speaker of the evening. He gave a ten-minute talk on the Value of Special Training. He told of the advancement of Thomas Coates, a young Pennsylvania mine worker, the first student of the correspondence school in 1891. Mr. Godfrey stated that the successful International Correspondence student is today in every city, town, village and hamlet. "Going to a college that boasts no campus or elaborate athletic equipment strikes the unimproved mind as queer," Mr. Godfrey said, "yet the correspondence school has a record of constructive accomplishment that is second to none."

Seventy-five thousand pieces of mail leave the correspondence school's private mail station daily for all parts of the world, Mr. Godfrey stated. Seven hundred persons inquire daily concerning home study courses and 85,000,000 pages of instruction are issued to students every year. Twenty-six states are using International Correspondence school service and 600 universities, colleges and resident schools have purchased its textbooks. There are 5,100 students in Brazil; 2,500 in India, and more than 200,000 enrollments in England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales.

Other speakers at the meeting were H. Reinike of Oaksho, superintendent of the Green Bay district and J. M. Hansen of Appleton, local representative. Several students gave impromptu talks.

It was decided after the program to organize a local club to be known as the International Correspondence School Fraternity. Earl Wooden was elected chairman to arrange for organizing the fraternity. Final steps toward organization will be taken at a meeting in November. A social and smoker followed the program and business session.

WILL SELECT RHODES SCHOLAR FROM STATE

Wisconsin will be one of the 32 states in the union to have a Rhodes scholar selected this year, according to an announcement made by W. F. Rames, professor at Lawrence college, who attended Oxford under a Rhodes scholarship several years ago. A Lawrence graduate, Earl Lawrence, was selected from the Wisconsin candidates four years ago.

An increase in the stipend has been made for the scholars this year, it was said, each person being allowed 300 pounds, or about $2,000 a year for the three years of his attendance at Oxford. Elections will be made in December and the scholars chosen will enter Oxford in the fall of 1927. Colleges and universities should select their representatives between Oct. 9 and 16, Mr. Rames said, in order that the applications will reach the state secretary by Oct. 23.

Candidates are appointed without examination on the basis of their records in school and college, it was stated. To be eligible a candidate must "be a male citizen of the United States, between 19 and 25 years of age on Oct. 1, 1927, and have completed at least his sophomore year in college." Qualities on which the selection is made are: "manhood, character, public spirit, leadership, literary and scholastic ability and attainments, physical vigor as shown by his interest in outdoor sports and in other ways."

WRISTON WILL SPEAK TO UNIVERSITY WOMEN

Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, will talk on "America's Foreign Policy" at a meeting of the Madison branch of the American Association of University Women in Madison Saturday afternoon. While at the capitol Dr. Wriston will be the guest of Marvin E. Rosenberry, associate justice of the Wisconsin Supreme court.

The president will speak on Monday at a meeting of the Appleton district ministerial association at Marinette.

TEACHER MEMBERSHIP REQUESTS HIT SLUMP

Application for membership in the "Wisconsin Teachers' association hit a slump last week and a letter urging rural teachers to send in their applications has been sent out from county school headquarters as a reminder, it was reported. It is hoped to bring the Outagamie-co membership up to a 100 per cent total this year. Last year approximately 85 per cent of rural teachers were members. Renewals in all instances are expected, it was said.

CLERKS MEETING TO OPEN TUESDAY MORNING, OCT. 28

Judge Fred V. Heinemann Will Be Principal Speaker at Convention

The fourth annual convention of town, city and village clerks of Outagamie county will open at the courthouse at 10 o'clock the morning of Oct. 28, it was announced Tuesday. Judge Fred V. Heinemann will be the principal speaker, using as his subject the tax laws, their import and essential part they play in government in the United States.

Aside from Judge Heinemann's basic knowledge of these laws his recent familiarity with the routine of handling his work on the board of canvassers and a recount of the ballots cast in the county at the recent primaries promises to make his address one of unusual interest and especially specific at this time, it was said.

Although details of the convention have not all been arranged it is safe to assume that a member of the Wisconsin State Tax Commission will be present among other prominent speakers. A special invitation is being extended to Mike Mack, chairman of the county board of supervisors, and it is probable that several other county officials will be included.

A banquet at noon will be one of the highlights of the gathering. The objects of the conventions are to bring about the most harmonious working conditions possible between the various clerks; to disseminate tax and law information urgent and pertinent to their occupation; inform each clerk in so far as possible with the Wisconsin statutes relating broadly to centralized local government and to bring about a condition where, especially in matters related to the routine of elections, a uniformity of procedure may be attained.

Under the law the attending clerks are allowed per diem expenses, pay and mileage, in the assumption that the knowledge gleaned at the annual convocations is of direct interest in the saving of money for the county and increasing the efficiency of the individual, it was declared.

The generally accepted opinion that the primaries were handled in a manner allowing of more than considerable improvement as to details makes this convention one of extreme interest to the clerks, it was pointed out.

Mrs. H. B. Petersen has returned to her home after spending a month with her daughter, Mrs. J. Edwin Skinner at Minneapolis. Mrs. Skinner returned with Mrs. Petersen and will visit for some time in the city.

MAYOR APPEALS TO CITIZENS TO HELP SALVATION ARMY

Annual Campaign for Funds Will Start Next Monday Morning

An appeal urging citizens of Appleton to contribute to the Salvation Army campaign to be conducted here next week was issued Wednesday by Mayor Albert C. Rule. The Army is seeking to raise $4,000 to carry on its work for the ensuing year.

Mayor Rule's appeal follows: "To the citizens of Appleton: The Salvation Army has named the week of Oct. 25 to Oct. 30, inclusive, as the week in which to solicit funds to carry on their work."

"As chairman of the committee in charge of raising the city's quota, I appeal to the people of Appleton to support and contribute to this fund. 'The work of the Army needs no explanation as you are all familiar with it, and I hope by your help they will be able to continue and increase their good work.'

"Service to God through service to man," is the most clear and concise definition of the Salvation Army," according to local officials. It is a Christian movement designed to reach and to serve the great masses of unchurched in all lands and in all climes, irrespective of creed, color or race.

The Salvation Army practices the kind of charity which God taught, it is pointed out. It believes in "helping a man by helping him to help himself, and teaching him to walk in the footsteps of Christ." Pamphlets outlining the record of service for 1926 and disclosing some light, thereby doing him lasting good, of the principal deeds performed by the Appleton corps during the past year were issued this week.

Appointments to all campaign committees have been made and everything is in readiness to start the solicitation for funds next Monday morning.

FARMER LOSES 10 COWS IN RETEST FOR T. B.

Emil Jentz, town of Ellington farmer, lost 10 cows in a retest for bovine tuberculosis reactors conducted by agents of the state agricultural department in the county during the last week. Mr. Jentz lost 10 cows in the first test conducted last spring, and the entire herd was wiped out in the retest. This is rare instance as only a comparatively few farmers lost cattle in the retest.

It is found that the first test made in spring eliminated practically all of the reactors and the second test shows that only a small number of animals had been affected since that time. The agents are working in the town of Grand Chute this week.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS COMMITTEE WILL MEET

A meeting of the building and grounds committee has been called for Nov. 3, it was announced by County Clerk John E. Hantschel on Saturday. Nothing is scheduled but routine business, the county clerk said.

HISTORY OF LAWRENCE TRACED IN MAGAZINE

The history of Lawrence college since its founding on Jan. 17, 1847, is the basis of the leading story in the October issue of the Wisconsin Magazine. The story is written by Dan Hardt, Neenah, a Lawrence graduate with the class of 1926 and now secretary to President Henry M. Wriston. Pictures of Main hall and President Wriston are included with the story. Other features of interest locally are the cover picture and an article on the Wisconsin Products Exposition at the 1926 state fair. The cover picture shows work on a farm near Appleton and was taken by H. A. Schmitt, local photographer. The story on the state fair tells of 30 miles of fireproof crepe paper from the Tuttle Press Co. which was used as overhead decoration throughout the exposition building, adding a distinctly artistic touch. Three hundred booths also were decorated with the paper by 12 Tuttle Press decorating experts, according to the story. It was conservatively estimated that 250 miles of the crepe was used to trim the entire exposition.

BUILDING PERMITS

Two building permits authorizing the undertaking of two miscellaneous projects at an estimated cost of $150 were issued Tuesday by the city building inspector. They were granted to Arthur Guthrie to move a garage, at 1113 W. Eighth-st., and Fred Wirtz for an addition to a garage at 814 W. Fourth-st.

GERMAN VOLUMES SENT TO LIBRARY

No Other Books Are Demanded by Foreign Born, Librarian States

A collection of German books has been received at the Appleton public library from the Wisconsin traveling library at Madison to satisfy the large demand for books in that language by local people, Miss Florence C. Day, librarian, said. About 30 or 35 books are sent here from Madison every six months under a lease to the city. Only German books are requested by foreign born people here, the librarian said. The permanent German library is larger than any other language aside from English. A few French and Spanish readers call for books, but these are usually Americans who have learned the language and read it as a foreign tongue. The demand for German books is by native Germans who read them in their own language. The collection sent by the traveling library is largely fiction, it was said. Many of the books are old but there are usually a few modern volumes in each group.

WATCH YOUR CIGARET STUBS, SAYS WARNING

Cigaret and cigar smokers for the next two weeks should be careful of disposing of butts as they would be were they camping in wooded territory, as there is danger of starting fires in piles of dried leaves, according to a warning issued by the fire department. In most of the residence district zones leaves have fallen faster than they could possibly be raked up and a pile of refuse ignited by a carelessly thrown stub might cause a conflagration, it was pointed out.

Announcing Victor's second sensational achievement in music... The New Orthophonic Victor Record

PERFECTED at last—a record that captures everything and misses nothing! A record of golden, natural, mellow tone, and amazing range—a record as good as the Orthophonic Victrola itself!

For two years, Victor experimented to produce this record. The entire resources of the Victor organization were enlisted to find a record that would contain all the musical elements which the Orthophonic Victrola is capable of expressing.

The new Orthophonic Record is the result. It is new—entirely new. It is recorded electrically, and is unparalleled in clarity, in tone, and in fidelity to the original. There is nothing with which to compare it, except the singing or playing of the artists themselves.

Reproduces all tones of all instruments

On these new Orthophonic Victor Records, high notes and low notes are now reproduced in their proper proportions. The bass is deep, sonorous. The higher notes brilliant, expressive. Tones that escaped former recording processes are now caught and reproduced with a naturalness that is positively startling. The spoken word has the breath of life. Even "s" sounds are now perfectly intoned.

Microphone recording—Orthophonic—Artists now sing or play in natural position before a microphone, just as they sing, or play at a public performance. The microphone "hears" and records what you would hear were you there.

Unpleasant scratch eliminated—Made from a new, improved material, Orthophonic Records have eliminated those annoying surface-noises so common to the ordinary type of record. You hear the music and nothing else. Also, these records have longer life.

That elusive "third dimension"—Victor has captured what a great musician calls the "third dimension"—depth! Just as the great masters gave "relief" and depth to their paintings, so these new records give depth and roundness of tone to reproduced music.

Foremost artists in every class—Victor has always attracted the foremost singers and instrumentalists of the world—operatic—orchestral—popular and dance. Their confidence is more than ever justified by the lifelike fidelity of Victor's new Orthophonic recordings.

Record stops automatically—An exclusive feature of the Orthophonic Victor Record is a groove, cut "off center." When the music has finished, the needle swings into this groove and applies the automatic stop on all modern Victrolas.

Hearing is believing—Whether you own an Orthophonic Victrola or not, hear these new Victor Records. They play on any instrument—and vastly improve its playing quality.

Go to your nearest Victor dealer. Go expecting the musical thrill of a lifetime. You will not be disappointed.

BOYS OF '98 PICK UP WORK WHERE BOYS OF '61 LAY IT DOWN

Impressive Program as G. A. R. Post Presents Colors to Baer Camp

"The boys in the blue have established the constitution as the greatest document of its kind in the world. They freed the slaves and saved the nation from disruption." General Charles R. Boardman of Fond du Lac declared in an address at the formal presentation of the colors of George D. Eggleston post of the Grand Army of the Republic to the Charles O. Baer camp of United Spanish war veterans at the Knights of Pythians hall Tuesday evening. More than 150 Civil and Spanish war veterans and ladies of auxiliaries of both attended the meeting.

Sixteen of the veterans of the Civil war attended the banquet and occupied seats of honor at the presentation program.

"These men are few in numbers, long in years, rich in experience and rolling in wealth," Gen. Boardman said. "It may not be the wealth of dollars or of glowing medals, but nevertheless it is wealth of a kind that only many years of hard and honorable work will win. They will be soon passing into the Great Beyond and they are passing on their colors and their work to the survivors of that later struggle and asking that these men continue in the work they have started."

STEPPING STONES
"Wars are the stepping stones of a nation. It has been so throughout the history of the world, but we hope that someday it may change. All life, our everyday experiences, are, but a struggle for existence. But this is a proper struggle and not the needless wars between peoples that wastes the manhood and womanhood of a nation." Gen. Boardman declared.

"There is no one so against war, as are we veterans of wars. They may call us pacifists or anything else they choose, but nevertheless, I believe I echo the voices of all those men who have ever engaged in actual warfare when I say that war is a most abominable means of settling a difficulty.

"Therefore we are looking anxiously for the time when there will be no wars. No matter how difficulties are settled, through what agencies or means, it would be far better than war," he said.

Gen. Boardman praised the American volunteers, who he said, have become famous the world over for their courage. He said it was the finest thing the Civil war veterans had done to establish the example of the volunteers. "There is nothing like it in God's whole world," he said.

"Fellow comrades, I now present

you, with the colors of our post, cherish them and guard them faithfully and continue with our work striving to do it better than we have done," said J. D. Hanchett, commander of the George D. Eggleston post in making the presentation of the colors.

The acceptance was made by C. B. Peterson, commander of the Charles O. Baer camp, who said that the Spanish war veterans were honored to be given a trust of this kind and he promised for them to carry on in the best way they could.

Mrs. Ella Schoen of Milwaukee, department state president of the Spanish War Veterans Auxiliary, gave a short informal address in which she praised the work of the G. A. R. and the Spanish veterans.

During the supper Mrs. Evangeline Farwell of Kaukauna, entertained by playing a piano to the accompaniment of a phonograph. Miss Marie Alfieri sang several solos and Miss Mae Eller played organ selections.

New equipment and materials will be purchased for the free dental clinic for the school children for the proceeds of a ticket sale sponsored by the Kiwanis club for the moving picture, "The Eagle of the Sea," to be shown at Fischers Appleton theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and evening. Students from the three junior high schools will assist the members of the club in the ticket selling at the schools; and a concentrated drive will be made Saturday by girls on the streets.

Dr. W. H. Meeker is in charge of the clinic which was organized last year by the Kiwanis club and will be sponsored by the organization again this year. The committee, appointed to have charge of the benefit movie is headed by Frank Catlin, who will be assisted by T. H. Beiling, W. H. Hacklemann, and E. M. Wright.

CABBAGE PRICE CLIMBS $2 A TON IN ONE WEEK

There has been a steady increase in the price of late cabbage during the past week; according to W. C. Willharm, a local buyer. Last week the price was $7 per ton, on Monday it rose to $8 and on Wednesday it took another jump to $9. Mr. Willharm says he has 200 tons of cabbage in storage and is shipping daily to Chicago. Some of the farmers are holding their crop for a better price. According to Mr. Willharm the price probably will rise before Jan. 1.

In the event of a hard freeze, much of the cabbage which is still unharvested would be damaged. At present the yield per acre is about 30 per cent lower than last year. Last year cabbage was selling at between $6 and $7 per ton.

THE RALEIGH BEDROOM SUITE

This Jacobean chamber suite is a new Berkey & Gay creation and symbolizes the French, Flemish, Dutch, Spanish and Italian tendencies which soften the massive angles of Elizabethan design.

A multitude of choice woods have been most skillfully combined in forming these pieces. Walnut in a straight-grained figuring appears on the top and sides of the cabinet pieces. Crotch walnut in a hand-matched swirl figuring appears on the drawer fronts, and also in the panels of the bed foot board where it is surmounted by turned onlays of maple. The head board of the bed is of hand-matched butt walnut. The middle drawer of the toilet table and the top drawers of the bureau, the top panel of the bed head board, and the diamond shaped panels on the chifforobe doors are of English Oak burl surmounted by a pierced scroll inlay of imported rosewood.

This suite is of particularly sound construction. Thoroughly in keeping with the spirit of this design is the open-grained, wax finish, mellowing and beautifying the natural glory of the woods.

Suite consisting of bed, bureau, hanging mirror, chifforobe, bedroom chair and bench—complete at $483.00.

SOCIETY

NIGHT CLASSES IN PAPERMAKING GET STARTED TONIGHT

Classes Arranged So All Employees of Mills May Get Complete Instruction

Menasha—The evening classes in paper making will start at 7:30 Thursday evening in room 103 at the high school building. The course offered this winter is designed for workers in papermills who are desirous of gaining a technical and scientific knowledge gained in actual mill experience. The subject matter has been carefully prepared to meet the needs of the types of papermills in Menasha.

Wood pulp, cellulose, rags and other fibers used in making paper, their preparation and uses will be the subjects of the first few lessons. The making of the various kinds of pulps, screening and bleaching will be taught. Beating, sizing, and coloring will be taken up. Special stress will be given to the care and operation of paper machines and papermill machinery. Power, lubrication, steam and water will be titles of several lessons. Machines operative, heater men, finishers, in fact, all employees of the industries, may well profit by the instructions offered.

H. G. Noyes, formerly with the Oxford Paper company, now engaged in organizing paper mill classes in Wisconsin, will serve as instructor. If a sufficient number enroll to warrant it, additional instructors will be furnished.

Provision has been made for shift workers who cannot be present the week they are working to make up the lesson they missed on the week following their absence from school. In this way a man need not miss a single lesson during the entire course. All equipment for demonstrations and experimental work will be furnished by the school.

MENASHA MAN WRECKS HIS CAR NEAR OCONTO

Menasha—While on his way to Lena, Wis., after a load of potatoes, Wednesday, Fred Scheffer, 701 Third-st., ran off the approach of a bridge spanning the Oconto river about three miles east of Lena and with his truck dropped more than 10 feet into the water. With the exception of bruising one of his hands he escaped injury.

The truck landed on its side in the river. The cab was torn off, one of the wheels was smashed and the front axle was bent. a1w600

Neenah—Thomas Burk, a stranger, was sentenced to serve ten days in Winnebago workhouse by Justice Chris Jensen for being drunk and disorderly. He had no money to pay the fine of $5 and costs.

Sore throats need this Double-Treatment YOUR sore, aching throat probably needs the soothing, healing vapors that arise from Vicks VapoRub when it is rubbed over throat and chest at bedtime. And Vicks acts two ways at once:

- (1) It is vaporized by the body heat and inhaled right to the inflamed air passages, loosening the phlegm and easing the difficult breathing.
- (2) At the same time it warms and stimulates the skin like an old-fashioned poultice, "drawing out" the pain and soreness and thus helps the vapors inhaled to relieve the congestion.

Good for the colds of all the family.

SCHOOL HEADS MAKE FINAL PLAN FOR GAME

Neenah—A meeting of superintendents of Neenah and Menasha high schools with the two coaches has been called for Friday evening at Kimberly high school office to make final arrangements for the game of football between the schools. Arrangements are under way for a game to be played on Saturday, Nov. 6 at Recreation park, Menasha. Both teams have that date open.

NEENAH HUNTERS HAVE LITTLE LUCK AT POYGAN

Neenah—Hunters returning from the duck marshes around Lake Poygan report that not for many years has hunting been as poor as it is now. There are plenty of ducks on the marshes according to the hunters but it seems impossible to get at them. Many hunters of Neenah and vicinity have given up hunting for the season.

SCHIPA ACHIEVES FAME AS COMPOSER AS WELL AS ARTIST

World Famous Tenor May Sing Some of His Own Compositions Here

A composer of songs of merit as well as a singer of world wide fame is Tito Schipa, the lyric tenor, of the Chicago Civic opera company who will give a concert at Lawrence Memorial chapel Tuesday evening, Oct. 26.

While singing at Havana, Schipa conceived the idea of a "Toast to Cuba." He wrote the song in a few hours and sang it at a recital program there. The song was recalled three times by the audience.

In his boyhood Schipa composed a mass which was sung in the cathedral at his birthplace, Lecce, Italy, at the command of the bishop. People came from miles around to hear the mass and camped in the open fields as there were no vacant rooms in the town.

To that same bishop, who bore the expense of Schipa's vocal training, he dedicated an "Ave Maria," one of his compositions which the tenor so often sings on his programs.

A light opera called "Mimi" is the Italian's latest work. The scene is laid mostly in America, and it contains the American melodies and rhythms that Schipa loved. Among the songs he wrote are "Madama Butterfly," "Tosca," and "Madame Butterfly." The book now is being thoroughly Americanized in preparation for its performance on the stage.

Schipa's programs unlike those of many famous singers include songs in English as well as French, Spanish and Italian. There are songs the lay music lover appreciates and enjoys as well as those for the trained musician and critic.

MAY COMPEL MILLS TO GIVE DAY OF REST

Industrial Commission Empowered by Law to Protect Health of Workers

Madison—(P)—The state industrial commission may compel factories and mercantile establishments to give their employees with the exception of those in certain occupations, one day rest in seven, Assistant Attorney General Suel O. Arnold said here today.

The opinion given to the industrial commission said the duty is imposed on and the power granted to the industrial commission to enforce the laws which relate to the protection of life, health, and safety and welfare of employees.

"The statutes provide that every employer of labor," the assistant attorney general said, "shall allow every person employed in such factory or establishment, except those employees specified in our statutes, 'at least twenty-four consecutive hours of rest in seven consecutive days.' Manifestly the latter section was enacted for the purpose of protecting the life, health and welfare of the employees."

UTILITY ACCOUNTANTS PAY TRIBUTE TO EDISON

Wausau—(P)—Tribute to Thomas A. Edison was paid Thursday by the accounting division of the Wisconsin Utilities Association in convention here, when the electrical wizard's achievements were reviewed. The occasion marked the forty-seventh anniversary of Edison's invention of the incandescent lamp.

H. L. Geisse, general manager of the Wisconsin Valley Electric company, declared that it was "particularly appropriate that accountants who hold the keys to the money boxes should honor Edison, because electric service is the only important item in the cost of living showing a decrease in price since pre-war days."

"The average price of commodities," he said, "is about 75 per cent above 1923 prices while the cost of electric service to the average person in the United States is 11 per cent lower. Twenty times as much light can be purchased today for one dollar than when the incandescent lamp was placed upon the market."

NOTED EDUCATOR GIVES SERIES OF TALKS HERE

Rollo Walter Brown, formerly exchange professor at Harvard university at Cambridge, Mass., will give a series of three lectures before the Lawrence college student body on Nov. 8, 9 and 10 at the chapel services. Four subjects are used by the professor in his lectures before students, and three of these will be given in Appleton.

The series includes: The Creative Spirit and the American Public; Creative Spirit and Youth; Creative Spirit and the Industrial Scheme; and Creative Spirit and Art. Mr. Brown was a professor at Carleton and Washburn college before going to Harvard university.

Barbers Move Here Clifford Brandt and Otto Whitke of Kaukauna, recently moved to Appleton to be employed at the Dressy Barber shop, N. Oneida-st. Another chair has been added to the shop.

Open Another Office The Union dentists who have offices in Green Bay and in the Woolworth building in Appleton, have opened a new office in Manitowish this week. Dr. T. A. Murphy, general manager, announced. Dr. A. Seeger is in charge of the local office.

"Master Of Ceremonies" No Snap At White House

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—Assistant Secretary of State J. Butler Wright is the man who keeps tab for President Coolidge on the congratulatory messages it's considered polite for the latter to send to the heads of other governments. Messages are called for by birthdays, national anniversaries, and like joyful occasions which fall on fixed dates, so that they can be foreseen with certainty.

Yes, they can be foreseen with certainty if one has ever heard of them. Their number is tremendous and very few of them are of the slightest importance except in the various countries to which, respectively, they are peculiar.

Who can tell, off-hand, on what day, in what month and year Polivia declared her independence, or the date of President Marbury's birthday? Well, Butler Wright doesn't try to carry it all around in his head. He keeps a list of "days," arranged chronologically, each opposite its appropriate date, with a few words descriptive of what it's all about, so that the congratulations can be felicitously worded.

Day by day, he glances at this calendar and tips off the president, after which (thus on the a. t.) he writes his congratulations for him. Since the White House drafted Charles L. Cooke, who formerly was the state department's "officer in charge of ceremonies," Wright has been the department's specialist on questions of international etiquette in general.

For instance, he always is on hand to meet and greet visiting foreign notabilities when they arrive in Washington.

He does this kind of thing well. He knows what to say and do. He understands how to meet social emergencies. He's imposing. He takes naturally to a silk hat, a frock coat and spats.

Cooke was a good "officer in charge of ceremonies," too, but when Miss

Wright took over, she found that the best way to keep a permanent place in your home for three times its cost.

NAME WALSH FACULTY ADVISOR OF HI-Y CLUB

J. Raymond Walsh, assistant principal of Appleton high school, was elected faculty advisor of the Hi-Y club at the meeting Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Plans for the club Halloween party were discussed and the party was set for Friday evening, Oct. 29. The place was not decided. A round-table discussion on club finances concluded the meeting.

Laura Harlan quit as White House social secretary, to go into the real estate business, the executive mansion needed him and he answered the summons.

These folk who straighten out social problems for the White House and the state department are extraordinarily secretive.

They have to be, for they have to resort to many an expedient which, were it revealed, would be certain to make some excited personage exceedingly hot under the collar.

Assume, for the sake of argument, that an ambassador was in the habit of eating peas with his knife at White House dinners. It wouldn't do to remind him that this wasn't good form. No, the social secretary simply would banish peas from the menu whenever warned that he was coming.

To take a real case, that did happen to leak out: There's been a feud for a long time between the members of the cabinet and the supreme court as to which takes precedence on state occasions.

It began in the late Chief Justice Fuller's time and still remains unsettled. But it's noteworthy that, from that day to this, the two groups have separate "reception nights" during the White House "season."

Another thing, visitors are not supposed to sit down at a presidential reception, but sometimes they used to do it—folk too important to be noticed that they were committing a faux pas.

Today there never are any chairs in sight when the president is receiving company, formally.

The board probably will submit its recommendation at the next council meeting.

ONE IS GOOD AND ONE IS OTHERWISE
Again this fall voters in Wisconsin will be asked to cast for or against two proposed amendments to the Wisconsin constitution. We doubt whether any state has had as many attempts to tinker with its constitution as Wisconsin has endured in the last fifteen years. Our voters sometimes may vote to support extremists and even radicals but when it comes to fooling with the constitution they have been ultraconservative, and sometimes even to their own detriment. They have constantly voted down most attempts to alter
the constitution, blindly at times, and perhaps in fear of giving to the men elected to office more or greater powers.

The first proposed amendment to be voted upon in November concerns the fixing of the salary of the governor. It is an amendment that should be passed. Under the constitution the salary of the governor is fixed at $5,000. The legislature has no authority to raise or lower it. The provision never should have been in the constitution. Constitutions aren't made to fix salaries. Legislatures are elected for that purpose. Constitutions are made to form basic or fundamental principles so as to insure to the people the most obtainable
in the way of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." The changing and changeable value of the dollar may make a salary fixed in a constitution entirely unreasonable. We should and must trust
the legislature, at least somewhat responsive to the will of the people, to fix salaries; only making the wise provision that no salary can be changed, either upwards
or downwards, during the term of office of any person already elected. The proposed amendment leaves the governor's salary at $5,000, but authorizes the legislature to alter the amount if it sees fit.
The amendment should unquestionably carry because it is meritorious.

The second proposed amendment is of an entirely different color. It seeks to work into the Wisconsin law that radical and foolish plan called the recall, so that if a man is elected to office, and aside from judicial officers and United States senators, our county and state officers are elected for but a two year term, nevertheless upon a petition duly filed by a certain percentage of the electorate, a special election would have to be held to determine whether the incumbent should be permitted in peace to complete his term or be turned out. The first and perhaps the worst impression to be gained from this amendment is its complete intimidation and terrorization of public officers, making them as spineless as the angleworm. Such an amendment would tend to take all character out of our public service. We might as well elect weathercocks to office and watch them veer and bow and switch and turn with every eddying gust.

The second serious objection is that the amendment strikes at the foundation of our system of government which distinguishes it from European democracies.
France has had seven or eight changes of government in less than that number of years. Other European governments have had somewhat similar experiences. There are well organized efforts on foot in Europe to alter their constitutions to conform to ours because they can see the virtue in having public affairs settled by an election for a set period of time, whether it be two, four or another period of years.
In still another manner does the recall strike at the government of our fathers. It permits an angry and oftentimes misguided
public sentiment to recall the most capable of public officials who are following set plans, which, given a reasonable length of time, will find public approval.
While the recall is vicious in all its angles it is the most sinister when aimed at a judicial officer. It tends to weaken that branch of our government which has been the strongest, most independent and therefore most reliable. Like so many socialistic theories, when put into actual practice, it is a weapon in the hands of the strong and the wealthy and the powerful,

and a menace to the weak and the lowly.
It would put under the foot of politicians
the unsullied flag of the judiciary. Its tendency would be towards Mussolini instead of Lincoln. Do we want an Italian or an American form of government?

BUT THEY NEVER WILL
How ordinary and human the great people of the land must be, under the skin,
is best demonstrated by the pains they take to prevent the world from finding out the least thing about how they look and behave off dress parade.

There died in Washington recently an old negro, Arthur Brooks, who had been valet to four presidents—William Howard Taft, Woodrow Wilson, Warren G.
Harding and the present White House tenant, Calvin Coolidge. Undoubtedly he knew more intimate details of the personal lives, in the executive mansion, of these four men than any person in the world outside their own respective families.

Such information may seem trifling.
Perhaps it is, but it's interesting. There were many more important things in the life of Napoleon than the meal he ate on the eve of Waterloo. But it disagreed with him, his stomach was upset, so he lost the battle. This was a trifling detail, which Napoleon's chef unquestionably did his utmost to hush up, but it sheds a flood of light on Napoleon. He was greedy. Indeed, it isn't a trifling detail. It reveals his whole character.

Arthur Brooks probably held the key to many riddles of the Taft, Wilson and Harding administrations. It wouldn't do to refer to the administration of President Coolidge, for he's contemporary. But Brooks' key was buried with him.

Brooks was a talkative old chap—in all capacities but as a presidential valet. He could tell a good story. He had a sense of humor and a nose for the newsy, but what he knew, as a valet, was as sacred to him
as a physician's knowledge of his patient.
He didn't tell his closest friend, or his wife, or his children.

Brooks wasn't unique. Who ever heard of a presidential-private secretary who made any indiscreet disclosures? Or a chief clerk of the executive offices? Or a White House chief usher? Or a doorkeep-er? Or a secret service attendant? Or anybody, connected with the White House?

That's why we know so little about our presidents—even our present one.

ALL HAIL THE HOT DOG!
Long live the hot dog, the "weenie,"
that succulent delicatessen swathed in tights!

Enemies of the hot dog, beware! May all the dogs in dogdom hound your heels
forever! You who would ban the hot dog,
we mean; you who would take from us
our vegetable and animal vitamins.

The warm canine, hear ye believers and unbelievers, not only has been exonerated
of all dietary blame, but has been named to a post of honor in that select little company of proteins.

The American Institute of Baking of Chicago has stepped into the controversy and settled the matter with a pronuncia-mento to the effect that the hot dog, by which we mean a frankfurter bounded by bread, makes a nearly balanced meal.

It seems that the carbohydrates of the bread and mineral salts and proteins from the bread and meat, as well as fat, are just what the human system craves in the way of temporary nourishment.

And do you know that no bacteria,
however bumptious it be, can penetrate the impervious casing that a wiener wears? Just please think of that!

POWER
Power runs a ruthless course,
'Tis big and swift and strong,
But who could like a force
Or love it very long?
Power moves and drives and acts,
Destroys and builds anew,
Man's wonder it attracts
By what it dares to do.
But power must rule alone,
Cruel to gain an end,
Blind force was never known
To win or keep a friend.
Vicious that power must be,
To seek its selfish goal,
Friendship, nor sympathy,
Nor love may take control.
Power seeks its desperate end,
Reckless of ache or smart,
Crushing both foe and friend
To play the conqueror's part.
The brave men give to power
Soon freezes into hate,
Loon only comes to flower
When kindness marks the great.

THE HYGIENIC BUS
Whether a man or woman can afford the time to walk to work is a question that depends on earnings; one who is underpaid probably cannot afford
this healthful luxury; one whose time is very valuable can scarcely afford to do without the walk to work. You will see how that is without any allusion to the matter of keeping fit, maintaining one's efficiency, pep, health and son on.
Discounting the ubiquity of the private automobile, it seems to me that the sensible reaction to an increase in fares by the transportation corporation should be a healthful strike—a vast increase in the number of people walking to work, at least those who reside within 3 or 3½ miles—an hour's walk—from their place of work. With such a movement afoot on a wide scale several new problems would arise. At present, one estimates from some census figures taken in New York city, plants, about 20 per cent of workers walk to work. Suppose in a riders' strike 60 to 80 per cent of the workers should take to their heels. At once the amount of tardiness would jump far above the average and some employers might feel inclined to oppose the strike or even import strike breakers.
But not so fast. Wait till we see what we've got here.

The worker who comes trailing in 15 minutes late in the morning because he has hoofed it all the way
instead of riding brings to work something the more punctual rider can't contrive to carry through the crushing and crowding of subway or surface cars, namely, the clear head. Crowded in a car which is seldom properly ventilated, workers are subject to all the effects of vitiated air, and brain fog is one of them. Not a very good condition in which to begin the day's work. A worker so doped needs a handicap of 15 minutes on the worker who starts in with a nice big dose of oxygen in his system.

But there is a still more important aspect of the question which ought to win a good many workers to a walk to work habit. When a fellow is walking it is pretty hard to hand him anything in the way of the cri. Even though you march right up and cough at him, if the weather is fairly cold it is likely to render your spray innocuous. In a closed and crowded car, where the little direct diffuse sunlight can penetrate you can bring down considerable game with your polite or casual conversation, even though you are not boot enough to cough or sneeze in your neighbor's face. In the crowded car a good big share of the respiratory infections which cause over three-fourths of all sickness are caught. That is the consensus of the health authorities—I should put the figure higher,
I think.

Of all means of public conveyance the taxicab is,
to my mind, the most healthful, but this is an insignificant part of the problem. Second in point of healthfulness, or at least in safety from injury to health, comes the motor bus. The bus takes preference over subway, surface or elevated car because urban busses are never unventilated (I am not so certain about interurban busses) and the seating arrangement as well as the means of entry and exit are found in a bus happens to give the minimum opportunity for the transfer of respiratory infections because it entrails the fewest
face to face encounters with other passengers.
So if you can't afford to walk to work, by all means take the bus even though the fare be higher
—you buy hygiene.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Good Start
The doctor tells me I have neuritis in my right shoulder. . . (Miss E. A. A.) Answer.—That is a good start. Now let the doctor determine what is the cause of the injury to the nerve. It is like discovering that a patient has high blood pressure. That's just a good cue for the doctor: it may help him in his examination or study of the patient, to find out what is the matter.

We are two disciples of yours and we would like to know about swimming during menstruation. (M.
R. and H. P.)
Answer.—Swimming is just as enjoyable and just as healthful then as at any other time.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Thursday, Oct. 24, 1901
A party of hunters consisting of Frank Kinesbury, W. J. Baker, M. E. Gochnauer, Dr. W. D.
Mack, Bert Reynolds, Frank Phillips and Charles Foss of Appleton and Richard Bottrell of Oconto were to leave the following Saturday on the steam yacht Fawn for a hunting and fishing trip to Lake Poygan.
A marriage license was issued the previous day in Oshkosh to Michael S. Demerath of Appleton and Miss Josephine Cox of Menasha.
The marriage of Elijah J. Bement of Wakefield, Mich., and Miss Irene Bement of this city took place at 8:30 the previous evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bement, 736 Lake-st.
Mrs. J. W. Cough was surprised by a number of friends the previous night in honor of her birthday anniversary.
William Kapingst had returned from Seymour
where he attended the wedding of a relative.
Bert O'Leary returned the previous day from Chippewa Falls where he had been visiting relatives
for two weeks.
The Double-Power Windmill Co., consisting of W.
H. Killen and George MacNamee, had purchased the site recently occupied by the August Volfram Lumber Co., on W. College-ave and work had been commenced on remodeling the warehouse on the site which was to be used as the machine shop of the mill company.

TEN YEARS AGO
Thursday, Oct. 19, 1916
Walter Gronsz, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gronsz, Onida-st., returned home the previous evening from Fort Bliss where he spent several months driving a truck for the United States expedition into Mexico.
Mrs. Wenzel Hassman, 5 Sherman-pl., entertained the Birthday club the previous evening in honor of her birthday anniversary. Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. George Steidl and Mrs. Joseph Grass-burger.
At a meeting of the board of trustees of Lawrence college the previous evening it was decided to install a department of commerce the following year,
to add another instructor in English and to turn Peabody house into a men's dormitory. The women housed in Peabody hall were to be transferred to Russell Sage dormitory which was then being built.
Arrangements for a Halloween party were made at the meeting of the Young Ladies' Sodality at St.
Mary Hall the previous evening.
Jack Shapiro was in Milwaukee that day on business.
The thirtieth year of organization of the German Ladies Aid society was to be celebrated that day. The organizers of the society were Mrs. A.
Ruhlander, Mrs. Herman Erb, Mrs. Julia Harbeck and Mrs. A. Blegenberg. The society was organized in 1894 and in 1895 the German Ladies Aid society was made an incorporated charitable organization.

FORWARD INTO BATTLE!

HASKIN

HASKIN WRITES TODAY

TRAVELING DE LUXE
BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C.—Interesting facts and figures about traveling de luxe in the United States are to be found in the annual report of the directors of the Pullman Company to the stockholders of that great organization.
During the last fiscal year $5,231,658 revenue passengers were carried in Pullman cars over the various railroads of the country. This was an increase of 1,716,223 over the preceding year, which may be accepted as an evidence of the growing prosperity of Americans because people who have to count the cost of everything they do
are not Pullman passengers, as a rule.
Every day almost 100,000 people travel in Pullmans, the daily average for the year being 39,264.
Not all of those who travel in this fashion are millionaires, of course, for there are only 11,000 such fortune-told individuals in the United States.
According to the income tax returns,
which are supposed to be reliable, having been made under oath. If all the millionaires traveled every day in Pullmans barely more than a tenth of this traffic would be accounted for,
which indicates that there is a considerable number of people in the country who want comfort and luxury when they journey from one place to another and are able to pay for it.
These Pullman passengers traveled
a grand total of almost fifteen billion
miles, or an average distance of 400 miles per passenger. This, likewise, is an increase over the preceding year,
and indicates, perhaps, that more people are going to California, or to Florida. At least, they are making long-range jumps when they take to the rail method of transportation.
To handle the traffic every car operated by the Pullman Company traveled an average distance during the year of 154,100 miles, or approximately 422 miles a day. The average annual mileage per car operated increased 4-400 miles over the preceding year. No data are offered as to the number of whisk brooms Pullman porters wore out during the year in getting the tips
that supplement their wages.
WHAT THE BILL COMES TO
The nation's annual bill for de luxe
traveling runs to more than $130,000-000. The Pullman Company got $90-831,274.99 for the twelve-month period covered by the report, and the railroads got $40,000,000 for the Pullman surcharge levy on the travelers who will not ride in day coaches. Of the gross revenue of the company, $9-701,566.64 also was turned over to the railroads, but that has no bearing on what the public pays for the conveniences it demands. Also, it is to be understood that the figures quoted have nothing to do with the sums that are paid by the public for the merely privileges of riding on a train. They cover only what the public spends when it insists upon riding in the big cars, usually at the rear end of the train, that have comfortable chairs or seats by day and more or less downy couches
by night, with the omnipresent
"George" and his broom.
But when the number of Pullman passengers is considered in relation to the aggregate amount of money expended annually for the privilege of riding in the big cars, it does not appear that traveling de luxe is so much of an extravagance, for the annual outlay per individual amounts to little more than $3.50. There are some twenty million automobile owners in the United States, every one of whom is spending for gasoline, oil, other operating costs, and depreciation more than that amount, not annually, but every week, or 52 times annually.
Of the net income of the Pullman Company for the year, which ran to a bit over ten millions, it is computed that each revenue passenger "carried contributed" only 29 cents. The net earnings represented, so the stockholders are told, only 7 cents for each revenue passenger carried 1100 miles, or seven one-hundredths of a cent per passenger mile, and only $3.25 per day
for each car owned by the company.
This, it is said, amounts to a return of not more than 5 per cent on a fair value of the properties used in the business.
In checking this statement it is found, from the report, that the company owns 8,739 cars and equipment which cost $196,841,691.28, or approximately $22,500 per car. With an annual revenue per car per year of slightly less than $1,200, the 5 per cent earning is approximated, but it has been many years since Pullman stockholders received or would be satisfied with a dividend at that rate.
The Pullman Company owns all the stock, except the shares necessary for directors to qualify, of the Pullman

QUEER QUIRKS OF NATURE

RAUCOUS JOKESTER OF THE WILD
BY ARTHUR N. PACK
President, American Nature Ass'n.
Heard far over the waters of some northern lake, what wilder voice is there than the yodelling call of the loon? It seems the voice of the very testimony of its prowess in the water,
for it is as much as home there as the fish themselves, and it is upon them that the loon lives. If you mean by means of a boat. At your approach it dives; you paddle swiftly to the spot. The moments pass and no bird appears; suddenly from some part of the lake you are greeted with its wild laughter.
Only to rear its young does the loon come ashore. In some lonely spot, preferably on an islet which promises virtual immunity from predatory animals, at the very edge of the water, the simple nest of rushes is fashioned.
Here are laid the two eggs, long and beautifully mottled with various brown and olive markings. The dusky young are clothed in the warmest of down.
Their stay in the home nest is short,
for they are born with a love for the water and with the ability to navigate. Soon they are learning to fish for themselves.
Though the loon is so much at home
in the water that it seems scarcely to need wings, its preference for northern lands makes their use necessary, for when its home waters
freeze it must seek milder climes.
It is able to travel great distances
without rest, even crossing high mountain ranges from between its summer home among the northern lakes and the ocean, where most of its kind pass the winter.

See-Sawing On Broadway
By Gilbert Swan

New York—Even the picturesque push carts which crowd the streets of New York's east side threaten to succumb to big business and efficiency methods.
In times gone a push cart proprietor was a potential merchandise
prince getting his start along the curbstones.
Today scores of these colorful business enterprises are owned by a syndicate or a single individual. The pusher is reduced to a salary basis,
and the wage is not sufficient to insure any degree of independence.
Furthermore, such group ownership makes it difficult for the individual to compete. The large holders can purchase stock in vast quantities and cut prices.
One of the largest owners, who is said to control several hundred pushcarts, seldom sees the east side and maintains big offices in the uptown belt. His real interests are in Broadway and recently he opened a gilded night club on his east side profits.
A notice came to my desk that the chorus men of one of the big Broadway musical shows have formed a football team and challenge any amateur group to winter games.
Don't smile! Mayhap a change is overtaking the chorus boys. In three musical productions this season I have noticed a number of "he-men"
types and, I am told, the public is demanding such. That they are encourage to get is perhaps due to established beliefs that the chorus was no place for "he-men." A couple of football victories—if any—would be invaluable propaganda.
The co-author of one of the two biggest box office smashes of the Broadway season, with a cut of 25 per cent of the profits, continues at his job of stage manager of another theatre.
Success does not strip the "backstage" of its lure. Those who have once been in this strangely artificial little world just back of the sidewalks
do not find it easy to break away and once breaking away, they seldom stay away.
In the preparation of this play,
which deals with night life of Broadway, the producer decided that the original script needed "popping up"
and sprinkling with more Broadway patter.
The playwright called in to do this,
and whose work, it is held, "saved
the show," had never been in a night club. The writer of the original script, on the other hand, had been a night
lifor for years and had gone broke spending. And there you are!
An electric sign tells me that "Able's Irish Rose," soon is to have its 2000th performance. A six-year-run! A wag suggests making it a landmark and letting it go that.
In the company that presents it,
four members felt that since they were together all the time anyway they might as well be married. One of the couples has a two-year-old child. Dorothy Grou, who started her stage career in this play as a flower girl, was 12 years old when the run began. Now she is old enough to step out and play parts.
A man who is an "official welcome"
for the suit and cloak trade has had to attend 40 times—not through choice,
but because visitors demanded to see
it. He is equipped to understudy every role in the play, he says.

The Question Box

Q. Where is the biggest locomotive engine in the world? C. D. W.
A. What is said to be the world's largest and most powerful locomotive was recently put into use on the Virginian Railway. It is an electric giant 152 feet long. It was necessary to build it in three sections, each one having a separate electric power unit installation, so that it might negotiate curves.
It has 1,125 horse power and can haul a loaded train almost two miles in length. It weighs over a million and a quarter pounds.
Q. I have been hearing about a plant from South America which is said to be much sweeter than cane sugar. Can you tell me anything about this? B. O.
A. A plant known as ka-a-hee-comes from the desert regions of eastern Paraguay and has been said to contain a substance nearly 200 times as sweet as cane sugar. American scientists are now experimenting to see if its saccharine properties may not be valuable in modern diet. It is thought that this may perhaps prove a boon to sufferers from diabetes.

BETTER TEACHING MADE POSSIBLE BY RECITATION PLANS

State High School Supervisor Offers System for Improvement

Madison. (AP)—Improvement of teaching technique by the use of prepared recitation plans is offered by G. T. Giles, state high school supervisor, as a solution to the problem created in public schools through lack of attention shown by pupils. Nearly one-half of the recitation periods are wasted, Mr. Giles stated in a survey for incorporation in the state program of public instruction, because of inattention on the part of the students.

Mr. Giles also proposes for solution the problems arising from individual differences in classes, stereotyped instruction methods and variation in teachable units of instruction in each subject, growing out of daily assignments.

"It is conservatively estimated," the survey stated, "that from one fourth to one half of all the recitation time of all pupils in classes visited is wasted due to inattention. Learning takes place in a state of attention, no attention, no learning. Here, then, is a very definite problem of serious dimensions on which attack should be made. It is not a new problem, however, nor a simple one, but it is a definite one in which progress can be objectively measured. It involves also the other four problems in the list and must be studied in connection with them."

"In order to proceed intelligently in the study of this problem," Mr. Giles writes, "the teacher and supervisor should know as far as possible what has already been done by others to solve this problem. This does not mean, of course, that the teacher should not strive at all times to secure 100 per cent attention to the work in hand if possible. All teachers recognize that lack of attention means waste and therefore loss of efficiency. The teacher alone cannot measure attention accurately, either that of the group or of an individual. The visiting principal with some practice can measure attention quite accurately. Means can then be discussed by which attention can be improved. This may involve an entire change in the teaching technique but it will usually mean a better planning for the recitation period and a better adaptation of teaching procedures to learning processes on the other."

"At the present time in Wisconsin high schools a very large part, probably 80 per cent of the class period for academic subjects is devoted to oral quiz mixed with teacher talk. This is a stereotyped form of class activity that is exceedingly common. This stereotyped oral question-and-answer mixed with teacher talk is not very efficient because it does not accomplish the aims of the teacher as well as some other activities can."

"The making of adequate lists of short-answer is a very difficult undertaking. Teachers must learn how to make them in the first place and must have time for the making in the second place."

"There is also great variation in the amount of teacher-talk in the class period. Some teachers evidently talk much more than others. Some principles should be discovered which would enable the teacher and supervisor to decide when teacher-talk is desirable and when it is wasteful."

"The problem of caring for the individual differences of pupils so that each pupil may work at his best rate and up to his fullest capacity is everywhere recognized but no satisfactory solution has yet been found. There is considerable difference of opinion concerning the advisability of sectioning classes on the basis of ability even in schools where the number of pupils enrolled is large enough to permit it."

What Women Wear When They Meet Queen Marie

Cleveland O.—Here's what the well-dressed Rumanian women are wearing in honor of Queen Marie whose love for the national costume of her country is well known.

Hundreds of thousands of American Rumanian women are either spinning the cloth and embroidering new national costumes in the queen's honor or shaking out of trunks from the old world these costumes which they brought with them to the new.

Miss Letitia Cucui, chairman of the Cleveland woman's committee which will greet the queen when she stops here posed in the national costume.

The costume is in three pieces. The blouse and underskirt are made of white homespun and are heavily embroidered by hand. Red is the usual color although blue is largely used, too. Bands of embroidery circle the neck, the flowing sleeves, the front and back of the blouse, and band the skirt.

An overskirt of heavy black brocade stiff with gold and silver metallic embroidery interspersed with colored floss embroidery is worn merely hooking about the waist and flaps to show the colorful homespun beneath. A stiff metallic embroidery belt is tied in front and has tassels.

Married Rumanian women who greet the queen will wear white and dresses of gold and pink and blue and red and orange metallic homespun. The queen herself is fond of the head-dress which unmarried Rumanian women can never wear.

This "Sunday best" national costume worn in meeting queens and on other high occasions cannot be made for less than $100 and is the product of months of constant embroidery.

5 LOCAL STUDENTS MAKE HISTORY CLUB

Appleton Persons at Lawrence College Named to Honorary Society

Five Appleton students at Lawrence college were elected to membership in the History club, an honorary organization for those majoring in history, at a meeting of the executive committee of the club next week. Miss Gertrude Zuehlke, Miss Eleanor Smith, Thomas Yates, Kenneth St. Claire, and Gordon Schiffer were the local students honored.

Other new members were: Wayne Parker of Marshfield, Miss Agnes Norrem of Milwaukee, Miss Faith Richards of Chetek, Miss Helen Davy of Nashotah, Miss Amelia Jacobson, Gordon Clapp of Ellsworth, Miss Madge Holmar of Duluth, Minn., Miss Edith Lee of Hancock, Mich., Harold Crisp and William Verhege of Sheboygan, Miss Mildred Scott of Cambria, Miss Lorna Young of Park Falls, Miss Elizabeth Kretlow of Rhinelander, Miss Sylvia Zillman of Colby, George Jacobson, Miss Bernice Case of Marion, Miss Mildred Christman of Tonawanda, Miss Alfred Sullivan of Wausau, and Milton Leadholm of Eau Claire.

Seniors and juniors are given preference in election to the club, but a few sophomores are at times admitted when their work deserves special merit and they intend to major in history. An average grade of B, or very good, is required of candidates for membership, according to the constitution of the organization.

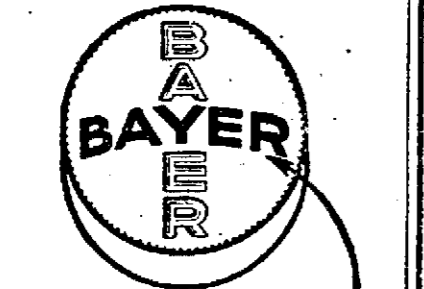

The first meeting will be a picnic to be given at Alicia park Thursday, Nov. 20.

October first marked the disappearance of the German language from the schools throughout the South Tyrol, which has come into the hands of Italy.

A campaign to abolish automobile racing in Germany is rapidly gaining ground.

GAS TAX TOTALED 85 MILLION IN FIRST HALF OF '26

Charge on 3,560,987,586
Gallons

Taxes on gasoline used in motor vehicles amounted to $84,939,373 in the first six months of 1926, according to the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. This amount was made available as follows: $54,981,677 to State highway departments, $19,338,976 for county and local roads, $8,229,413 for State and county road bonds and $4,149,998 for miscellaneous purposes.

A total of 3,560,987,586 gallons of gasoline were taxed and it is estimated that an additional $56,450,000 gallons were consumed in the four states in which taxes are not collected. All of the states except Illinois, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York imposed a gasoline tax, the rate ranging from one to five cents with an average of 2.39 cents per gallon. Since 1919, 69,832 motor vehicles were registered in the six months period, the gasoline consumption per vehicle averaged 225 gallons.

Gasoline taxes were first imposed in 1919 when four states adopted the tax and derived a revenue of a little more than one million dollars. The practice is now general and the increased revenue derived is one of the most important sources of highway income.

The revenue derived from the gasoline tax in the first six months of 1926 by states was as follows:

Alabama	$1,176,152
Arizona	456,234
Arkansas	1,861,280
California	7,413,624
Colorado	921,426

PRIEBE TO REPORT ON LEGION MEETING

Account of National Convention Will be Given at Kimberly

Harvey Pribe, commander of Oney Johnston post of the American Legion and delegate to the national convention county council next Thursday at the monthly meeting of the Legion, Oct. 28, at Kimberly, club-house. Mr. Pribe returned Monday from the convention held last week at Philadelphia.

H. L. Plummer, past commander of the state department and now national executive committeeman from Wisconsin, and Marshall Graft former executive of the Sixth district also will speak. Mr. Graft formerly of Wausau, now resides in Appleton. While he was Legion head in the Sixth district, that section was always the first to go "over the top" in district membership campaigns.

Plans for increasing the membership of the council and for membership campaigns will occupy the remainder of the meeting. Delegates from every post in the county are expected to attend.

MUSIC

Miss Felton Is First In Song Contest

An Appleton girl, Miss Pearl Felton, a student at Lawrence Conservatory of Music, won the soprano contest sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs Wednesday in Chicago. Miss Felton is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Felton, 522 N. Garfield-st. Contestants from four states—Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska—were entered in the contest. Miss Felton will go to Philadelphia in November to compete with representatives from eight to ten districts for national honors. The winner of the national contest will receive $500.

Miss Felton won first place in a state soprano contest in Milwaukee last Thursday. The contest was open to all voice and piano and violin students in Wisconsin and winners of the state contests in four states competed Wednesday.

Each contestant was required to sing three selections, one in foreign language and one by an American composer. Miss Felton's selections were "Zol che sapete" an aria from an Italian opera by Mozart; Schubert's "Serenade" and a song by Grunin, a noted American composer.

Appleton Women Honored At Kings Daughter Meeting

Mrs. P. A. Paulson was elected second vice president, and Mrs. Paul Scallan, secretary of the Silver Cross magazine, of the Wisconsin branch of the International order of the Kings Daughters and Sons at the fourteenth annual convention at First Methodist church Wednesday and Thursday. About 65 members of the order from the state attended the meetings, and Mrs. Sara F. Gugle, council member from Ohio, was the honored guest at the convention.

Mrs. R. Markham of Manitowoc, was reelected council member and president. Other officers for the coming year are Mrs. F. Chose of Sun Prairie, first vice president; Mrs. J. Donohue of Sheboygan, third vice president; Mrs. J. Stuckert of Sheboygan, secretary; Miss L. Fairweather of Sheboygan Falls, treasurer; Miss S. Spratt of Sheboygan Falls, junior chairman; Mrs. Peter Bates of Sheboygan, Mrs. F. Dennett of Sheboygan, Mrs. James Bergstrom of Neenah, Mrs. Dunkey of Manitowoc, Mrs. E. Thomas of Sheboygan and Mrs. Schlichting of Sheboygan Falls, members of the executive board.

Lack of responsibility toward the junior members of the order and lack of cooperation were the two "dark spots" indicating weakness in the organization, according to Mrs. Markham, president, who gave a short talk on the work of the Kings Daughters. She urged each member to feel an individual responsibility not only to the order but to the King in whose name the work is carried on. A lack of proper publicity was named as a third weakness of the organization, and the members were asked to have the work and meetings of their groups made known.

There are 50 circles of Kings Daughters located in 18 cities in the state, the secretary reported. The total membership of these circles is 908 in the 28 senior and 12 junior circles. The largest number of groups is in Sheboygan, it was said, where there are 17 with a membership of 29. Sheboygan Falls ranks second with seven circles of 81 members; and Plymouth, third with six circles of 77 members.

Mrs. Sara F. Gugle gave a talk on Bible study entitled Praise. The report of the 1925 convention was given by the secretary. Mrs. P. A. Paulson was toastmistress at the banquet held at 6:30 at the church. Judson G. Rosebush was the speaker of the evening. He used as his topic Lend a Hand in Wisconsin. Mrs. O. R. Kiehn, gave a piano selection; Mrs. E. J. Koerner, a reading; and Mrs. Donald McCredy, a vocal selection. The convention was to close on Thursday afternoon.

AUXILIARY OF EAGLES HOLDS BIRTHDAY PARTY

A birthday supper was served to 62 members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles at 4:30 Wednesday evening, in honor of the third anniversary of organization of the auxiliary. Fifteen tables of cards were in play during the afternoon. Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. H. Hearden, Mrs. Zuelke, Mrs. Wanke and at dice by Mrs. Christenson and Mrs. Emma Sonison.

Plans were made for the bazaar to be held next Wednesday afternoon and evening at Eagle hall. An open card party will be given at 2:30 in the afternoon in connection with the bazaar and there will be an open card party at 8 o'clock on that night. Lunch will be served at both card parties.

Five local members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles attended the meeting of the Oshkosh auxiliary Tuesday evening. They were Mrs. Ida Aben-droth, Mrs. Paul Schroeder, Mrs. Phil Gearson, Mrs. Arthur Schroeder and Mrs. Irene Medley. A class of candidates was initiated at a meeting and a program was given. About 150 ladies from Appleton, Oshkosh and Neenah were present at the meeting.

CARD PARTIES

Mrs. George Kessler, route 6, Appleton held an open card party at her home Wednesday evening for the benefit of the new Catholic church. Cards and dice was played and prizes were won by Mrs. P. J. McGilgus, J. Hoffacker, Mrs. McGinnis, Albert Piepenberg and M. Gehin at schafkopf and by Mildred Kessler and Mrs. John Stoefel at dice.

The fifth of the series of open card parties will be given at 2:35 Friday afternoon at Columbia hall by the Missionary society of St. Mary church. Schafkopf and bridge will be played. Miss Louise Grignon is chairman of the party. "Sewing on missionary articles" will take place in connection with the party.

GIRLS CHARTER BUS TO CARRY THEM TO GAME

Members of the Girls Athletic association of Appleton high school will charter a bus to go to Green Bay on Oct. 29 to attend the football game with the East Green Bay high school. It was decided at a meeting of the organization Monday afternoon at the school. Miss Marie Krantzsch and Miss Mable Brandt will have charge of arrangements for the trip.

A hiking committee to make plans for fall walking trips was appointed by Miss Edith Yeager, faculty sponsor of the association. Miss Krantzsch will be chairman of the group and will be assisted by Miss Ruth Radtke, Miss Mary Gloudeamans and Miss Ethel Kiehn.

New members will be initiated at a party the latter part of November. Miss Edith Brunschweiler was appointed chairman of the party committee and other members will be Miss Ella O'Neill, Miss Hazel Draeger and Miss Florence Verbrick.

A football banquet will be sponsored by the association for the members and managers of the football squad at the close of the season. The dinner is an annual social event of the organization.

LODGE NEWS

A social and dance for members and friends of Equitable Fraternal union will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening in Gil Myse hall. Music will be furnished by the Schultz orchestra.

The regular meeting of Appleton encampment of Odd Fellows No. 16 will be held at 8 o'clock Friday night in Odd Fellow hall. A report on the grand encampment which was held Oct. 12 and 13 at Stevens Point will be given by Florian Harriman.

Balloting and initiation of candidates took place at the regular meeting of Deborah Rebekah lodge Wednesday night in Odd Fellow hall. Mrs. John McCarter, Mrs. Thomas Longworth and Mrs. William Martin were members of the refreshment committee. Visitors from Chilton and Chicago attended the meeting.

Helped by Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound

Cleveland, Ohio.—The friends of Mrs. Helen M. Kowalczyk of 6819 Hope avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, were glad to hear that she has regained her health. For quite some time Mrs. Kowalczyk was quite ill and it was impossible for her to work. She took Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and began to feel better. She had started taking it, she wrote to the Finkham Company as follows: "I certainly hope, Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound, I feel stronger already and sleep sounder. I am very glad to spread the good news of how it has helped me."

"Happy to Recommend Finkham's" Detroit, Michigan—"I heard of this medicine through an advertisement in the 'Detroit News' and wrote to Mrs. Grace Gilman, whose letter was published. Then I started taking the Vegetable Compound and got the best results. I used the Sanative Wash, too. I am really happy if I can advise women to take your medicine."—Mrs. M. J. COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsion, creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat trouble. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial catarrh, bronchitis and other types of respiratory diseases, and is especially for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

START SHIPPING OF SUGAR BEETS FROM FOREST JUNCTION

Excessive Rainfall and Labor Shortage Make Work Difficult

Special to Post-Crescent
Forest Junction—Deliveries of sugar beets for shipment from here began last Friday and have been continuing steadily during the week. The progress of the work, however, has been slow, and growers have already been feeling the advent of winter before the completion of the harvest. Excessive rainfall has made the work particularly laborious, and a shortage of laborers on the beet fields has further aggravated the situation.

The products of about fifty acres will be shipped here. The first carload went forward on Monday over the St. Paul road, destined for the Menominee River Sugar Co.'s plant at Menominee, Mich. Shippers had been anticipating the assistance of the mechanical loading device which was recently erected. The outfit, however, failed to operate properly, and as a result, one day's trial. It is a loader of the chain and bucket elevator type, and was brought here from Manawa where it had been previously used by the Green Bay Sugar Co. Emil Freitag has general supervision over the local shipments.

HARD TO CUT CORN
Corn cutting and silo filling, which have been just as laborious processes as sugar beet harvesting, are not yet completed. The larger part of the crop has been cut by hand at the fields have been too wet for the use of the binders. The crop compares most unfavorably with the excellent crop of last year. Some of the corn has nevertheless reached a fairly ripened condition, and a number of husking bees have already been made the occasion for evening frolics on the farms.

The first indication of coming rural school box socials for the season has already been given in an announcement from Webster school on highway 18, taught by Miss Lillie Loefler. The event will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 23, beginning with a literary program at 7:45. A number of dialogues will be given by the pupils of the school, one of the special features being a health play "How Dick Outlasted Tom."

SHIP HOLSTEINS TO SALE
The six head of Holstein cattle which have been selected for con- signment to the Clark Special Hol- stein sale at Fond du Lac next week will be shipped from here early Sat- urday morning via the Northwestern road.

Falling from a beam about twelve feet above the ground in the barn un- der construction at the Arthur Stan- lee farm, Lawrence Brothman sustain- ed injuries to his back and shoulders early Wednesday morning. He was employed with the carpenter crew from Whitelaw which is erecting the building, and had just begun work in the morning. While operating a saw on his lofty perch, he lost his balance and fell to the earth floor be- low. Though striking on his head, he retained consciousness and was im- mediately cared for by a fellow work- man.

THE DIRECTOR OF "THE SEA HAWK" SCORES AGAIN
Frank Lloyd who enjoys the enviable reputation of having turned out a bigger percentage of big pictures than ninety per cent of the directors on the lots, has "hit" again with his "Eagle of the Sea" which opens a three day run at Fishers Appleton Theatre next Monday. Ricardo Cortez and Florence Vidor have the leading roles with about three thousand others in the big cast. This is his biggest production since the phenomenal success of "The Sea Hawk". If advance reports by those who have seen the picture can be used as a criterion.

The Kiwanis Club of Appleton, are sponsoring the local showing of this photoplay, a certain percentage of the receipts being turned over to them for the fund for the benefit of the underprivileged child.

A great photoplay for a great cause. Usual added features, including stage show and latest news events.

"THE BOY FRIEND"
CHARMING SATIRE
Monta Bell, who is responsible for such cinematic gems as "Broadway After Dark," "The Snob," "The King on Main Street" and others, has found a new field for his efforts. In "The Boy Friend," Bell's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production playing at the Elite Theatre today and Friday, he has one of the most charming satires in years. While a great many people will understand the picture and enjoy it only in the surface vein in which it would appear, there is an undercurrent of satire, carefully concealed, that will appeal to the discriminating.

"The Boy Friend" is a satire on the etiquette book, disguised in this case as "The Book of Charm," and it offers Bell dozens of opportunities for the display of his particular brand of humor. An excellent script was made for Bell by Alice D. G. Miller from the play, "The Book of Charm," by John A. Kirkpatrick.

Marceline Day and John Harron have the leading roles, and Ward Crane, Gertrude Astor, Elizabeth Patterson, Otto Hoffman, Gwen Lee, Mabel Turner, George K. Arthur and others are in the cast.

DON'T MISS "PAL" LATEST MIX THRILL
Tom Mix has traded his big hat for a mounted policeman's cap in his latest starring vehicle for Fox Films "My Own Pal," which opens at the New Bijou to-day for three days.

But this does not mean that Tom has made a picture without the usual, Tom Mix ingredients of thrills, action and drama—far from it. "My Own Pal" promises to be one of the best pictures in which this popular western star has appeared.

As Tom O'Hara, the daring cowboy who turns policeman, he is ideally cast—for Tom O'Hara is just another Tom Mix. He's gallant, daring

EAGLES HEAR REPORTS ON FALL PARTY

A report on the Halloween party to be given by Fraternal Order of Eagles for members and friends on Oct. 29, Eagle hall, was given by the committee in charge at the meeting Wednesday night in Eagle hall. Novelty caps and favors will be given to each person who attends the party. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Nels Gallipeau, Henry Staedt, Andrew Schiltz and Roy Koester.

About 12 local Eagles will attend a district meeting Sunday, Oct. 31, Oshkosh. Cities that will be represented are Appleton, Berlin, Chilton, Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Kaukauna, Manitowish, Menasha, Neenah, Plymouth, Sheboygan, Sturgeon Bay, Waupun and Oshkosh. Cars will be provided to take the local delegation to Oshkosh and will leave Eagle hall at 1 o'clock sharp, it was announced.

PRO WOMEN GO TO STATE RALLY

Seven members of the Business and Professional Women's club of this city will go to Milwaukee next Tuesday to attend the State Rally night of the Milwaukee club which will be held and fearless with a whimsical happy-go-lucky streak in his nature.

On his way from the ranch he rescues a little girl from a cruel circus manager, kidnaps her at the earnest request of her dying mother and makes a spectacular leap to the platform of a moving train to escape his pursuers.

Arriving in the city he has the good fortune to rescue the niece of the chief of police in a runaway accident—this giving him the opportunity to join the force as a mounted policeman.

He is almost discredited by the leader of a gang of crooks who has been masquerading as a wealthy young man to gain entrance into the better homes of the city, but manages to turn things to his advantage and to capture the gang, with the loot from a jewelry store they have robbed.

Every Student Eligible To Enter Essay Contest

Every student in Appleton high school may compete for the cash prizes to be given by the Appleton Post-Crescent for the best essay written on the news story having the greatest local interest published in the paper during the week. The first compositions will be due on Tuesday, Oct. 26, and the week's winning essay and the one winning honorable mention will be published in the Thursday issue of the paper.

A prize of $2.50 will be given to the student writing the best essay on stories appearing in the Post-Crescent from Monday through Saturday each week. If two compositions are of equal merit and are believed by the judges to be better than any of the other entries, both writers will receive $2.50 and both essays will be published.

The judges will base their decisions first on the actual value of the Post-Crescent story, whether it is of great local importance. It may be a story of local people or situations or of the less immediate territory. Its importance lies in its effect on local conditions. Then will be considered the reasons of the writer for choosing this story, and his competency in setting forth his ideas. Last, the technical writing ability of the author will be judged, as his grammar and style.

A limit of 250 words has been placed for the essays, but a fewer number of words will be accepted in the contest. The names of the writers will not be put on the essays but in a sealed envelope not to be opened until after the decisions have been made.

Judges for the contest will be H. H. Tuesday night. All Business and Professional clubs in the state have received invitations to the rally. A dinner will be served at the Milwaukee clubhouse after which there will be a program. Daisy Carrington of the Milwaukee club is in charge of the program.

Those from Appleton who plan to attend the celebration are Lynda Holmbeck, Catherine Nooyen, Inbee Stearns, Mabel Sibley, Irene Reinke, Beatrice Haacke and Mrs. Alice Carroll.

DRAMA WORKSHOP GIVES DANCE TO FINANCE PLAY

An informal dance will be given by the Dramatic workshop of the Appleton Women's club at the club playhouse Friday evening. The Kansas City artists will play for dancing. Proceeds from the party will be used to purchase material for scenery and costumes in the plays given by the group.

Miss Dean Chamberlain is chairman of the decorating committee. Miss Laura Schoettler will be in charge of the refreshments, and Robert Currie is acting as business manager. Patrons and patronesses of the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Sleeper, Mrs. S. C. Shannon and Miss Elinor Strickland.

APPLETON-BAY GRID GAME TO BE BATTLE OF PASSES

Aerial Work Of Orangemen Greatly Improved; Expect To "Fight Fire With Fire"

Cookson Stars on Receiving End of Heaves; Many Subs in Lineup

Several men who played a prominent part in Appleton's victory over Oshkosh Saturday, were given a rest Wednesday afternoon while their mates went through a hard scrimmage featuring intensified work on pass attacks and drills to break up enemy passes. From the drills at Lawrence field fans may expect Saturday's game to be fought in the air, though the Orange also will make use of the plays which gained large slabs of ground through the line and around ends in every game so far.

However West Green Bay with the great Herber-Quinn combination is sure to unleash a fine aerial attack while the Orange passes have been going in practice and in the last three conference games makes it look like the Sheldons will "fight fire with fire" Cookson, who intercepted a pass and ran for Appleton's only marker against Fondy, looked especially good on the receiving end of heaves, taking them from the air in the run in great style. He is playing end now, while he was at half against Fondy.

Two regular backfielders, Strutz and Witke, halves, graced the sidelines. Witke is suffering from a charley horse, but probably will be able to go Saturday. The backfield was made up of Lutz at quarterback, Johnson at full and Gelbke and Roemer, class of the reserve backs at halves.

Gelbke and Roemer, both are speed merchants and their speed on offense and tackling work on defense stood out during the practice though Lutz got away for several twisting runs and Johnson dashed the line and ends as usual.

To the line, Kuntz, who has an injured eye and Laird were missing from their usual guard jobs. Laird at center was flanked by Popp, who played the entire Marquette and Fond du Lac games, and Heinrich, who started at Marquette and Fond du Lac.

Laird was used at end in the second team's pass attack as he is the closest approach to Quinn in size and reach on the Orange team. He also played end last year.

Tackles remain the same with Capt. Pfeiffer and Gutschow, the old reliable "hole openers" in the job. At ends were Cookson and Schaefer, one of the tackling terrors. The Oshkosh game with Harting in reserve.

Mickey Mack, local boxer, whose work was well known to fans of this vicinity two years ago, is planning a return to the ring this winter. Mack who will weigh in at from 130-133 pounds, has been training daily for the last three months. He includes in his daily workouts, 2 1/2 miles of roadwork and drills with the punching bag and sandbag as well as sparring with friends. Eddie Phillips, former local scrapper and ring second, will work with Mack in his comeback. The local announcer that he is willing to meet all comers at his weight and hopes to get on a number of cards in this vicinity this year.

500,000 APPLY FOR ARMY-NAVY TICKETS

Chicago—(P)—The list of applications for tickets to the Army-Navy football game here Nov. 27, has passed the 500,000 mark and is believed to have established a record in American sports history.

No more requests will be considered and on Oct. 29 officials will announce the names of the persons who applied first for the 40,000 of the 100,000 Soldier Field seats left after the two service schools were given allotments of 30,000 each. Half the 40,000 tickets will sell for $15 apiece, and the other 20,000 for $10.

Kansas City, Kan.—Sammy Mandell, Chicago lightweight champion, beat Larry Cappel, Kansas City (10).

Grip Most Important In Hurling Forward Passes

BY "SWEDEN" OBERLANDER
The proper grip is most important in hurling a forward pass. Why not compare the movement of a forward pass to that of a golf club? The same essentials are discovered in both.

A hasty survey reveals that each first must have the proper grip; perfect execution and timing of the swing of the arm; at the exact moment a snap of the wrist and the follow-through.

Then in order to secure those few precious yards of additional distance other bodily forces must be coordinated with the muscles of the arms. But first, let us examine the grip.

Unless a player has exceptionally short and stubby hands I never advise the ball to be thrown while resting loosely within the fingers. A firm grip as in golf is desired. Let me try to analyze the position of the ball in my hand.

My fingers cover the lacing with the first joints extending beyond. My second finger covers the last lacing toward the heel, my thumb is further towards the heel, passing over the seam on the side. In this manner the ball is so balanced that the long axis is inclined slightly toward the toe of the ball.

So much for the grip. Now for the swing of the arm. Watch my hand as the ball is brought directly over my shoulder. For a longer pass, more impetus is, of course, required. The ball started from a position further in

TO GET 9 "W'S"

ROLLIE BARNUM

One of Wisconsin's greatest all-around athletes is Rollie Barnum, football halfback, basketball guard and baseball catcher. Barring injuries this year, Rollie is certain to receive three major W's to bring his collection for his college career to nine. One other Badger athlete, he of the same first name, Rollie Williams has achieved the nine-letter honors. Rollie is a triple-threat man on the gridiron, acting as varsity punter.

QUEEN MARIE INVITED TO ARMY-NAVY BATTLE

Annapolis, Md.—(P)—An invitation to witness the Army-Navy football game in Chicago next month was extended Queen Marie of Rumania, Princess Nicholas and Princess Ileana by Commander Jonas H. Ingram, director of athletics at the Naval academy, during the visit of the royal party here Wednesday.

The Queen said that if arrangements can be made she will accept the invitation for she never has seen a gridiron game. Prince Nicholas also was enthusiastic. "I would like to sit with the players," said Marie.

OGLETHORPE U. HAS STAR GRID MACHINE

Atlanta, Ga.—Oglethorpe University appears to have one of the best football teams it has had in seasons this fall.

After defeating Georgia Tech in the opening game of the campaign, Oglethorpe came back to hand Centre College a nifty trimming. Both victories surprised even Oglethorpe's fondest rooters.

Shortly after the Tech defeat, that school returned around and fairly shocked the football fraternity by whipping the great Tulane aggregation. All of which makes Oglethorpe stand out as a formidable eleven.

back of the body. The lacing of it are on the outside. Now the ball begins to travel in an arc and as it does my wrist is snapped over and down as the ball leaves my hand. This motion insures a spiral.

Important as the follow through is in golf, just as vital to a successful pass is the follow through of the throw.

This can be accomplished by continuing the swing of the arm through until the hand is pointed directly at the receiver of the pass.

The ball should leave the hand following the direction of a slight arc. If it is thrown too high it easily is covered by the secondary defense.

And yet, on the other hand, if sent on a straight line with much speed it is difficult for the receiver to handle.

The grip described has certain advantages over a ball thrown loosely. When gripped, more accurate direction is afforded. A wet ball can be equally as well handled.

By gripping the ball what we call "authority" can be gained. That is, the ball seems to follow a definite route as if ordered. It does not float as one loosely hurled.

The ball leaves the hand just as it begins its downward path on the arc. The throw is very similar to the peacock, directly overhead, never side-arm. In this manner it is not easily blocked by the inching linemen, thereby spoiling the play.

Marquette—Marquette is leading the Fox River conference by virtue of its victory over the conference champs from East Green Bay by 12 to 3 count. The setback to the first suffered by East in three years, but it is the fourth time in six years that Coach Johnson's men have turned the trick. This victory places the Purple in a commanding position to clinch the conference flag for this year, having only Oshkosh to play before completing her conference schedule.

Sheboygan fought to a tie with Madison Central. The teams up in this section of the state are putting up a real brand of football and the winner of the conference championship will be able to put in a strong bid for state honors. Marquette has one of the strongest teams in years, and so far their goal line has not been crossed, and they downed Marquette university high.

Over the weekend in the F. R. V. conference West Green Bay will journey to Appleton, Manitowish will go to Oshkosh, while Sheboygan will attempt to knock off Fond du Lac at Fondy. East Green Bay will travel to Sturgeon Bay and Marquette will meet Racine at Marinette in two nonconference bouts.

HAS "GILDED" TOE

"BUTCH" LEITT

Madison—In "Butch" Leitt Wisconsin looks to have one of the best field goal kickers it has had in several seasons.

Leitt stepped to the front in the recent game with the strong Kansas aggregation, booting two placement goals at a crucial moment. He also kicked goal after touchdown, making good on all three attempts against the Jayhawkers.

Leitt is one of Coach Little's veterans. He plays tackle and is one of the big cogs in the Badger's front-line trenches. His expert toe is certain to cause opposing teams more than a little worry whenever the Badgers get inside the 40-yard stripe.

ROLLIE BARNUM TO WIN NINE LETTERS

Star Badger Halfback Also Plays Stellar Game on Courts, Diamond

Madison—(P)—Wisconsin's sport followers and the student body in general are dusting off a place in the university's hall of athletic achievement for Rollie Barnum, half back and all-around athlete, who comes down the home stretch of a brilliant college career this year practically assured of a total of nine letters won in major sports.

For the last two years, Barnum has taken his place in varsity lineups on the football, basketball and baseball teams and, barring injuries, is almost certain to receive three more major "W's" this year for participation in the three sports.

By accumulating the marks of athletic distinction, Rollie will take a place beside another Wisconsin athlete with a similar given name who now holds the university record for triple-sport awards, Rollie Williams, who is acting as an assistant to Bert Ingwersen at the University of Iowa, won nine major letters while at Wisconsin, besides leaving behind lasting memories of gridiron, hard wood, and diamond feats.

Barnum, from a half back post, is one of Coach Little's most dependable ball carriers, an integral part of a fine back field array bidding for conference honors.

When the snow covers the gridiron and the wheelskins are packed away for a year, Rollie dons the abbreviated garment of the basketball court and performs throughout the season as a guard. Considering the quality of basketball teams turned out at the university during recent years, his habit of remaining as a fixture during the hard court season is all the more noteworthy. Late starts occasionally by gridiron schedules have proven to be no handicap.

In the spring the collegiate diamond receives his attention and from a place behind opponents bats Rollie directs the strategic moves of the Cardinal hurling staff. Besides being a fine catcher he also carries a mean wallop with the bat as shown by consistent hitting averages during the last two seasons.

Entering the university in 1923, Barnum immediately courted about the athletic fields farbed in the yearling uniform where he attracted the attention of coaches. Before entering school his home was in Evansville, Wis., but since that time he has lived here.

There is a good reason for this. Quality uniform products, service that can not be duplicated, low bus mile cost and above all, traction that cannot be denied.

You too can get this service.

RAILROADS OFFER SPECIAL RATES TO BADGER GRID GAMES

Tickets to Indiana, Minnesota, Iowa Tilt One Fare for Round Trip

Madison—Special railroad rates to University of Wisconsin Football Games are being announced by both the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and the Chicago and North Western Railway Company.

Railroad tickets for the Indiana, Minnesota, and Iowa Games can be obtained on a basis of one fare for the round trip from all points in Wisconsin, Upper Peninsula of Michigan, and from Chicago. These rates are effective from Thursday midnight preceding the game, to Monday midnight after the date of sale.

Tickets for the Wisconsin-Michigan Game from Madison will be placed on sale for $13.50 a round trip. This fare does not include berths. In addition to these special rates, the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company is running a train to Ann Arbor, via Detroit, with stop-over privilege in Chicago Friday evening, and in Detroit Saturday morning. These tickets are valid from Thursday midnight, before the game, to Monday midnight following the game. Tickets for this train will be sold for $16.50.

For the Wisconsin-Chicago Game at Chicago Nov. 20th, tickets will be available on the same basis, one fare for the round trip from all points in Wisconsin, Upper Peninsula of Michigan, from points in Illinois, and points farther east to allow graduates from the east to see this game. Rates can be had on all trains arriving in Chicago before 2 p. m. Saturday, the day of the game, and the return limit will be reaching the original starting point by Monday midnight. Football tickets for all home games are still available by filling out either an alumni or a public application blank, and accompanying it with either a certified check, draft, or money.

YOST PESSIMISTIC ABOUT ILLINI GAME

Michigan Leader Says Green Line May Not Be Able to Stand Hard Battle

Chicago—(AP)—Fleeting H. Yost hopes to turn back Illinois in the head-line game of Saturday's Western Conference football with a "lot of green boys."

"Just because we beat Minnesota 20 to 0, a lot of people think the team is great, but this isn't a great team," he protested while the Michigan squad was being hurried through final preparation for defending the Big Ten title won last fall.

"I know I have my backs and my two end men," Yost conceded, "but I have a lot of green boys in the line. They're doing the best they can, but maybe my backs won't be the same back of that line." The pessimism professed by the veteran Wolverine coach was not generally echoed, however, and Michigan ruled a favorite Thursday to halt the Illini in the contest which is expected to virtually decide the 1926 conference championship.

Zuppke picked a squad of 25 to leave for Ann Arbor Thursday that did not include two of his mainstays so far, D'Ambrosio and end Timm in the backfield. The Illini spent their final strenuous session against a reproduction of Michigan's brilliant passing game.

Indiana turned westward to invade Wisconsin with a team considerably strengthened by last week's defeat at the hands of Northwestern. Little was non-committal in the Badger camp but there was an air of optimism over the chances of bettering the showing made in the scoreless tie with Purdue.

The scoreless tie was one of the factors in the cheerfulness of the Boilermakers on eve of their clash with Chicago in the latter's first conference engagement of the fall. Things looked a bit doubtful for Chicago where Stag has devoted a week to attempts to efface the mental and physical overhang of last week's trouncing by Pennsylvania.

The Iowa squad entraining for Ohio state was considerably bolstered by the return of Don Ilies to the line. The Buckeyes, unscathed in overwhelming Columbia at New York, labored over time on a neat aerial attack for the Iowans.

Both Big Ten teams not meeting conference opponents devoted Thursday to polishing up their play for highly formidable opponents. Two full squads working at Northwestern led to the understanding that Thistlewaite would use Notre Dame's tactics and start second string on against the Rockne crew, and an oversized first string labored at Minnesota for the invasion of Wabash.

4 STATES IN THIS SQUAD'S BACKFIELD

Baton Rouge, La.—Louisiana State university Tigers have in their backfield what they claim is the most cosmopolitan quarter in American football. All are from different states. Texas contributes Capt. "Babe" Godfrey, left halfback. Charles Mason, quarterback, is the only Louisianian in the backfield. "Hink" Haynes, right halfback, is from Alabama, and Allen Connel, fullback, comes from Tennessee.

With the exception of Connel, this combination has another year yet to play for Louisiana State. Capt. Godfrey and Haynes are playing their second year on the team and Mason made his debut on the squad this season.

Last week McLaughlin and Purdy held a reunion with Kulich, a third former Beloit great, playing with the Badgers, and Cyre had a happy homecoming with the other old Gonzaga star in the Badger lineup. Next week Champ Basing and Eddie Kotol, old Blue backfield mates, will shake the hands while plenty of Lawrence friends of Champ, including most of his flat brothers will whoop 'er up from the stands.

MOVIE BANK "ROBBED" 306 TIMES FOR RECORD

Universal City, (AP)—The Universal City "bank" holds what is believed to be the world's record for successive hold-ups. Henry McRae, director general of production at the Universal studio, announces the three hundred and sixth successful robbery of the bank in the last several years. The bank has had the honor of being held up by Hoot Gibson, William S. Hart, Harry Carey, William Desmond, Art Acord, Jack Hoxie, Ben Corbet, Dewee Holmes, and Fred Gilman.

The bank, which is but a motion picture "set," was built before the world war and has figured with many alterations, in scenes of more thrilling action than almost any motion picture "set" in existence.

OUTLINE PROGRAM FOR REVISION OF WISCONSIN TAXES

Bills Will Be Introduced Before Next Session of State Legislature

Madison—(AP)—A legislative program for revision of taxation in Wisconsin has been outlined by Ford H. MacGregor, secretary of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities. The program will probably take shape in bills to be introduced before the Wisconsin Legislature in January.

The program is written in the form of a catechism in which questions regarding taxation are asked and answered.

Holding that the state is taking tax monies from railroads, corporations and other sources which formerly went to municipalities the league advocates amendment of tax laws "so as to stop the practice of succeeding legislatures of taking away from the local tax units of government various types of property for local taxation purposes, and of diverting all the revenue derived from the taxation of such property into the state treasury."

"As a beginning" the catechism proposed, "a law should be passed to re-adjust the original distribution of the income tax, namely, 10 per cent to the state, 20 per cent to the county, and 70 per cent of the towns, villages, and cities. Gradually, laws should be passed to distribute all special taxes on this same basis, or on such basis as a later investigation will show the ratio of the expenditure of these branches of government to be or else to segregate the tax sources so that this ratio will be preserved."

"A law should be passed to uniformly tax all local utilities at the local rate and apportion the proceeds on the same basis as above outlined. At the present time, local utilities are taxed in various ways. Some are taxed according to the local rate, some according to the average state rate; some are assessed by the Wisconsin Tax Commission, and some by the local assessor. All should be treated alike and taxed the same as each other, and the same as other businesses in that locality."

"A beginning should be made by repealing the personal property tax on motor vehicles, because it cannot be fairly enforced; 27 per cent off all motor vehicles licensed escape this tax. A car bought on May 2, cannot be taxed this year. The tax is easily evaded. No assessor can personally value and assess each car."

The owner is taxed twice without the personal property tax—through (1) a graduated license tax and (2) the gasoline tax. These taxes

Kiwanians Launch Drive To Get Out Record Vote

Vote as you please—but vote. That is to be the slogan of the 1,515 Kiwanis clubs of the United States during the weeks before election in an effort to get out a large vote. Arousing all citizens to vote, is the most vital object of Kiwanis International now, according to John C. Pollock, Fargo, N. D., chairman of

are adequate, equitable, and can be easily collected.

"Until a more equitable plan is worked out, the revenue from the license fees should be retained by the state and used to develop and maintain the state highway system. This fund should be relieved of all maintenance and mileage aids to towns, villages and cities."

"The gasoline tax should be increased from 2 cents to 3 cents per gallon, to make up for the repeal of the personal property tax on motor vehicles, and the entire revenue from this tax turned to the towns, villages, and cities to be used in the construction and maintenance of town roads, city and village streets, the apportionment between towns, villages, and cities to be made on the basis of license fees paid, or on an equitable combination of license fees and road mileage."

"Inheritance tax proceeds are essential. They should not be used for operating expenses. Inheritance taxes should be placed in a capital fund and only the interest used for operation—ultimately, perhaps, to build up a perpetual fund for the support of education. But for a beginning, the inheritance tax should be amended so as to be distributed on the basis of 50 per cent to the state, 25 per cent to the county, and 25 per cent to the locality."

Peterson's Ointment Best for Eczema

First Application Stops Itching of Eczema and Piles—Ends Chafing Distress in Five Minutes

"Live and let live is my motto," says Peterson of Buffalo. "Druggists all over America sell PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 35 cents a large box and I say to these druggists, if any one buys my ointment for any of the diseases or ailments for which I recommend it and are not benefited, give them their money back."

"I've got a safe full of thankful letters testifying the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment for old and running sores, eczema, salt rheum, ulcers, sore feet, broken breast, itching scalp, chafing and blind, itching and bleeding piles."

T. G. Rokestrom, of 808 Loraine Street, Detroit, writes: "I suffered with piles for over 25 years—nothing did me any good. After my fourth box of Peterson's Ointment I am nearly cured. It is the greatest ointment I ever heard of."

"HAVE A CAMEL" IS MUSIC TO YOUR EARS

Camel is totally different from any other smoke. . . . It is more than a cigarette. . . . A lighted Camel is smoking enjoyment realized—the closest thing to the perfection of taste this old earth ever knew.

Camel's popularity has no equal. Camel demand exceeds any other cigarette preference ever known. To say "Camel" is to ask for the world's most popular cigarette. And to light a Camel is to taste the best.

For there's a solid reason back of the fame and the enjoyment of Camels. Quality. Camels are rolled of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos money can buy . . . blended for matchless taste and fragrance.

INSURANCE WILL SOLVE PROBLEMS OF WAGE EARNERS

Solution of Unemployment Situation Is Predicted by Underwriter

Milwaukee—(P)—Olaf H. Johnson, commissioner of insurance for Wisconsin, Wednesday welcomed Insurance Federation members and participants in the Insurance Day program here by reviewing the accomplishments of the underwriters during recent years and predicting insurance would eventually solve the problem of unemployment among the wage earners. The speaker also urged the state insurance men to make the occasion an annual meeting.

"I trust that Insurance Day will become a permanent institution," he said, "an annual important event when the men and women who are engaged in the profession of insurance will gather to fraternize, to consider and discuss their insurance problems and devise ways and means for carrying on this business to greater achievements. For solving new problems may arise in the future and for continuing an insurance service that will meet an ever growing public demand."

"Let this be a day of review and of taking an inventory of past achievements. Let it be a day for advertising insurance to the public, and for impressing upon the public that insurance is one of the dependable pillars of our social and commercial life."

"Only in the measure that an insurance company brings to the individual a service worthwhile, and only in the measure that the representative and the agent applies such service to a need, can both company and agent succeed."

"The progress and rapid development that insurance has made has been nothing more than an extension of the protection and the guarantee that it gives to meet the growing needs and demands of the time. It has had a more rapid development in this country than in any other nation of the world and more insurance is transacted in this country than in all other countries combined."

"Every form of insurance was but the means of meeting a new need as it arose."

"The losses from the perils and dangers of the sea were met by marine insurance."

"Destruction and loss of property by fire was provided for by the contributions of the many to meet the losses of the few."

"With the introduction of the steam railroad came accident insurance to meet the alleged danger to accidental injury from travel."

"With the rise of industry and commerce the liability for damage of the individual or the corporation was met by liability insurance and followed later by compensation insurance for industrial injuries."

"With the onward march of a more advanced and progressive civilization, the value of human life was given greater recognition and the family became more the important factor in our social relations and life insurance became the needed shield of protection for the widow and the fatherless."

"With the automobile came automobile insurance, not only as a need of the owner, but more and more as a demanded right of those endangered by its use."

"An so for each new contingency as it arises, and as the happenings unforeseen, have come to entail loss, suffering or hardship, the helpfulness of the many has been combined into a tangible form of insurance to meet the losses of the few."

"And so insurance will continue to meet each new human need as it arises. It will in the near future solve the nightmare of the wage earner, unemployment; make independent a dependent old age, and with each newly arising problem will come some form of insurance to carry out its mission of meeting an existing need by mutual helpfulness."

"And so I welcome you today, to these services of reeducation. May each one of us, receive a greater realization of our mission and of our duty, and may we all return to our work with a greater enthusiasm, a better knowledge, and a stronger determination, to do all and the best there is in us in the service of the Greatest Business in the World."

Mother Nature Prepares Birds And Beasts For Long, Cold Winter

Take a tip from the animals, the postoffice, and an expert on weather reporting.

"Every indication, and there are many of them, mind you, bear me out in saying that the coming winter will be the hardest ever known in this country," Frank says.

"The first indication is the premature departure of the birds, who began leaving much earlier this year than usual. One old Indian in the town of Maine told me last week that the wish bones of several geese that he had just killed were more crooked than he had ever seen them before. This indicates a stormy and a cold winter."

"Next I noticed that the egg shells were getting thicker and thicker. Every evening when I collect the eggs they seem to be a bit heavier. Already they are as heavy as they usually are in December. This is Mother Nature's method of protecting the hatching chickens," Frank explained, "and they'll need protection this winter."

"To check up on my findings," Weather Prophet Frank said, "I wrote to the Washington Zoo at Milwaukee and asked them if the animals expected a hard winter and here is the answer, 'The furry ones such as the lions, llamas, lynxes, buffaloes and bears are devoting all their energy to the urgent business of becoming more furry. The hibernating crew have laid on extra layers of fat and are now in a state of snow rabbits are jubilant.'"

"I ask you now what could more plainly point to a hard winter. And that isn't all of my signs. Listen to these. The fur on the large meadow moles is heavier than usual, proving they are preparing for extraordinary cold. An early frost turned the leaves and this is Mother Nature's method of telling them to get off the trees and protect the ground from the cold and heavy snows that are to follow."

"The crickets are black and thick and the moss is heavy on the north side of the tree."

"As an afterthought, resort was had to the weather bureau. Did nature really know what she was talking about?

"Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and somewhat cooler," droned the voice of science, "As for next winter, I have no idea. Certainly not. No one can predict the weather that far ahead."

RADIO RECEPTION IS MADE CLEARER BY IMPROVEMENTS

Receivers More Fool-proof And Easier to Tune Than Formerly

Improvements that will make radio reception easier and more enjoyable mark the beginning of this radio season, as reflected in the recent Radio World's Fair in New York.

Receivers are more fool-proof, easier to tune, more selective and highly sensitive. They are encased in artistic boxes and consoles, so as to make them pleasant pieces of furniture suitable for any drawing room.

Yet their prices on the average are no higher than those of former years.

The outstanding improvement in the radio field is the trend toward simplicity of operation. The single tuning control is almost universal. The only other controls on the panels of the receiving sets are a volume control and a vernier.

There are receivers with two and three tuning dials, but even these are so arranged that they may be operated as one, by interlocking the condensers.

MORE TUBES IN SETS

The second big step in this season's radio progress, and a surprise to many interested in the industry, is the development of receivers with more tubes, rather than the elimination of tubes. The three-tube receiver couldn't be discovered among the 300 exhibits at Madison Square Garden in New York.

Most were receivers with tubes running from five to nine in number. Radio frequency sets, with even four stages of radio frequency—heretofore thought impracticable—will hold their own against the neotronics and superhets. These are the three prevailing types of hook-ups. Regenerative and reflex receivers are no more. Perhaps the reflex will return, improved, but it hasn't shown up this year.

With more tubes comes the loop. More receivers, heretofore sold for outside aerial use, are being made for loop reception. Use of the loop requires more tubes for stronger operation.

BETTER TUBES, TOO

Use of the loop also is justified by the introduction of power tubes for audio amplification, and a much more sensitive tube for detection. These are the innovations in vacuum tubes.

To make the loop aerial even more practicable, receivers are being shielded against internal interference and for greater sensitivity and selectivity.

For clearer reproduction, audio transformers in receiving sets are being made larger to cover the entire range of voice and instrument without distortion. And loud speakers are being made more sensitive and powerful. The cone type prevails.

For the operation of these improved receivers, battery eliminators of all sorts are being shown this year. In fact, more than 50 firms now are producing more than 80 different types of battery eliminators.

FEW A ELIMINATORS

They're both A and B battery eliminators, although the B type is more general. These are of three kinds, depending on the rectifier employed, the device that converts the 110-volt alternating current of the house line into the direct current required for the receiver, ranging from 22½ volts to 135 and even more volts.

One type of rectifier is the Raytheon, which is designed on the electron bombardment principle. Another is the thermionic rectifier, as the Electron tubes. And the third is the chemical rectifier. All have equal representation this year.

Some receivers are designed to take current direct from the house line. They have rectifying mediums installed as part of the outfit. The show in New York failed to bring out a receiver with A. C. tubes, to take the current directly from the A. C. power lines.

Despite these improvements, how-

over, A and B batteries still are holding on to their popularity. For there are many homes in these United States that aren't wired for electricity.

Dangerous Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced

People who want to reduce swollen or varicose veins should get a bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at once. Applied night and morning as directed they will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal. Voigt's Drug Store sells a lot of it.

BROKEN REST

Caused by Bladder Irritation Is Nature's Danger Signal

C. R. Kidney, Ontario, N. Y. says: "Lithiated Buchu has done more for me than all other remedies combined. Some days I had almost a constant desire with a terrible burning sensation. Would be bothered about six times at night. Will tell or write my experience to any one." Don't take astringents for this. You may get the habit or be forced continually to add nature. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) acts on the bladder as epson salts do on the bowels. Drives out foreign matter, decreases excessive acids, thereby relieving irritation.

The tablets cost 2c each at drug stores. Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at Voigt's Drug Co. adv.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels

Give "California Fig Syrup" at once if bilious or constipated

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When a child is cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomachache, sore throat, diarrhea, full of cold give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless, "fruit laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of cheap imitations sold here. To be sure you get the genuine ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

SAINT AND SINNER

By Anne Austin

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
CHERRY LANE, a stenographer, is utterly different from her sister, FAITH, who does all the work for the family of six, including her semi-invalid mother, her father, who is a carpenter and contractor in a small way; her brother, JUNIOR, or "Long" Lane and JOY, nine.

Cherry, the flirt, is carrying on affairs with a dozen admirers, including CHESTER HART, formerly a suitor of Faith's; BOB HATHAWAY, a young architect; ALBERT ETTLESON, a married traveling salesman; old Mr. CLUNY, Cherry's present employer; GEORGE FRUITT, rich man's son and amateur artist, showers Faith with attentions, but Faith cares only for Bob Hathaway, who is infatuated with Cherry.

At a party at Frutt's to which Faith cannot go because of a heart attack suffered by her mother, Hathaway sees Cherry in Chris Wiley's arms and goes to Faith for comfort not realizing she loves him. Faith remonstrates with Cherry, but she tells her she will not marry Hathaway if she can possibly land George Frutt.

Frutt continues to pay marked attentions to Faith and on a Sunday takes her to a nearby resort for dinner. Before leaving, Faith finds a packed and locked suitcase in Cherry's closet, and the money in a telegram which Cherry has received from Ettleson fills her with dark suspicions.

She has no time to discuss the matter with Cherry, but asks Junior to hide the suitcase in his automobile trunk. Frutt tells Faith that he loves her and humbly asks her to kiss him. Strange enough, she raises her lips to his.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

When George Frutt's famished lips pressed hard upon her mouth, Faith forced herself to rest passively in his arms, but when, bewildered, defeated, he raised his face and glared at her, she cheated, accusing eyes, she shuddered and flung an arm across her face, so that she would not have to witness the pain.

"Why did you let me kiss you?" he demanded hoarsely. "It was a brutal way to show me that you didn't care. I—I won't do it again," he assured her, his head dropping upon his breast, his big, freckled hands looking tightly between his knees.

"I'm sorry, George—and ashamed," she whispered huskily. "You see, I wanted to know—beyond the shadow of a doubt, I've heard that love comes sometimes, like a rushing torrent, in the first kiss. I wanted it to come—if it would. I wanted to love you, because I'm so grateful for love. I need love—but I need more than anything else, to give love. Some women are like that, George, and some like—like Cherry, greedy to take, having little to give. I'm sorry—sorry—"

"Don't blame yourself," the man interrupted her fiercely. "I'm ashamed of myself for having flared up at you like that. I'm sorry, too—all broken up. Faith, I think I'm a little of my head. For ten days I've wanted to shout and sing, stop people in the streets and force them to listen—'Say, I've found the finest girl in the world, and I'm going to marry her.' That's what I wanted to yell from the house-tops, Faith."

"I know," Faith rested her chin on her clasped hands and brooded over him, her brown eyes drowned with tears of pity—for herself as well as for him.

"I couldn't believe at first that it was me—Faith Lane—that you wanted. It's always been Cherry—but I couldn't help knowing, after a bit, and I tried to keep you from saying it, because I knew it hadn't happened to me, too. Why, George, dear, I've married, on my knees, like a child, these last few nights that a miracle would happen, and that I'd wake up and find my heart filled to overflowing with love for you."

"If you want to love me so much," George said slowly, painfully, "why not let's try it—getting married, you know? I'll be so good to you, Faith. It makes me sick, and so angry, I could fight, to see you slaving from dawn to midnight for that ungrateful family of yours, taking the leavings, shielding them, propping them up in their weaknesses—"

"They're not ungrateful," she stiffened, and brushed her tears away with an angry hand. "They need me, George. I love mothering them all—Dad, and Mother and Junior and Cherry and Joy. You don't understand that I love to give—"

"I want to give, too—to give you everything lovely that you ought to have and can't. Fine soft silks and gracious velvets for your wonderful body, and delicate food that you don't have to cook over a hot stove books and leisure and travel to feed that clever brain of yours. Listen, Faith, I'll hire the best housekeeper in town to look after your family—"

"I'm glad Dad didn't hear you say that," she interrupted sharply. "The Lanes don't take charity, George. We're as proud as the Lincoln family. Oh, let's not quarrel! Don't you think I want to marry you, and live as your wife will live—Beautifully? But I can't, George. I would be broken in the plunge, George, no matter how fine and soft the bed I landed on. You knew that, when you sketched that picture you want to paint. Let's be friends, George. I've never had a real friend, I love you in so many ways—"

"All right," he said abruptly, springing to his feet. "We'll have our swim now, and then take it easy going home." He reached a hand to her to help her rise.

"Friends?" she asked, when she stood beside him, holding his hand in both of hers.

He looked away, as if his eyes were searching for strength in the impenetrable beauty of the low, wooded mountains. Then he turned back to her, his face illumined with that sudden, gay smile of his—a gaiety that touched her heart more than his tears of a few moments before he had done.

"Friends?" He shook hands vigorously. "I'd rather have you for a friend than any other woman as a wife."

They talked eagerly, as if to prove their comradeship, as George drove smoothly at twenty miles an hour back to the city. Now that he knew he could not have her heart, George Frutt reached out hungrily for her mind. "Did you ever read—"

was the burden of their swiftly shuttled conversation. He would bring her Somerset Maugham's "Of Human Bondage," which he liked better than any book he had read in ten years. Did she know Rupert Brooke's poems? He had had a suspicion of her enthusiasm for them during and immediately after the war. He was still young enough to admire the young English poet's boyish disillusion and idealistic cynicism. Did she have the Oxford Book of English Verse? He would give her a copy tomorrow—

"George!" Faith cut in sharply, gripping his arm. "Wasn't that Bob Hathaway who passed us just then? Quick! Turn around! Catch up with him! It's awfully important! Please!"

Without wasting time with questions or quibbling, George swung his car in a wide circle, without losing speed, then accelerated to forty miles an hour. Bending over the steering wheel, he watched the road for chances to cut in between cars going less swiftly, grinning at the curses the drivers flung at him, and gained steadily on the dark green roadster in which Bob Hathaway sat alone, hunched over the wheel, his head bare, the late afternoon sun glinting on his thick chestnut hair.

When the cars were almost abreast, George clapped a palm on the horn button and grinned at them until the hoarse clamor caused Bob Hathaway to turn his head, in anger and impatience, to investigate.

"Hello, Bob!" George sang out. "Can you pull up by the road a minute? Faith wants to speak to you."

"Hello!" Faith smiled into his haggard blue eyes when he came striding up to the car in which she sat. "I saw you passing and I wondered why Cherry wasn't with you. She said she had a date with you for this afternoon. Please don't think I'm just prying—"

"Of course not!" Bob Hathaway leaned upon the door of the car, his bare, sunburned arm—he had been driving careless as well as hatless, with the sleeves of his white sport shirt rolled above the elbow—sporting Faith's. She quivered at the accidental contact. "Cherry phoned me at two that she was sick, couldn't come with me this afternoon. She wouldn't let me come over even for a few minutes, so I suppose she's feeling pretty badly. Is it anything serious? I admit I've been rather worried. Her voice sounded odd—"

"She—she seemed all right when I left at eleven," Faith said slowly, her mind racing to grapple with whatever this might mean.

That pocked and locked suitcase! As she studied the worried, sincere face of the man lounging against the car, she realized that, all day, in the back of her mind, had been the suspicion that that packed suitcase had meant that Cherry was planning to elope with Bob Hathaway. And here was Bob—alone—

"But I remember now," she went on rapidly, "that she seemed listless, then. I suppose it's nothing more than a bad headache. You'll pardon me for stopping you like a traffic cop, won't you?" she smiled reassuringly, but her heart was beating heavily with dreadful forebodings.

When they were saying goodbye, Faith stopping him on a sudden impulse. "You might telephone in about half an hour. Bob, if it's convenient, and if you're really worried about Cherry. Ask for me. If you call, and I can give any message to Cherry, if she isn't sleeping her headache away."

"I wasn't going anywhere in particular," Bob Hathaway told her. "I think I'll drive on back to the city. I'll call you up from my house when I think you've had time to get home. Maybe she'll let me come over this evening."

When George's car was again headed toward town, Faith tried to talk cheerfully, to keep him from suspecting the very real worry that was gnawing at her heart.

But she was to find that she had not entirely succeeded in throwing him off the track, for when he left her out at her house, he gripped her hand hard, with the low-spoken, serious words: "Call me if you need me—for anything! I'll be at home all evening."

"Thanks, George—for everything," she answered simply, then ran up the gravelled path to the house. She found her mother and father in the living room, looking warm and uncomfortable and bored in their Sunday clothes.

"Where's Cherry? In her room?" she asked breathlessly.

"Why, no, she's out with Bob Hathaway," her mother answered truthfully. "Me and your Pa has been setting around all day, with nobody to talk to. Joy's over at Grace's."

"When did she leave?" Faith persisted, fear making her voice sharp.

"My land! I don't know exactly. Me and your Pa was taking a nap after dinner, and when we woke up she was gone. I don't know what

WORLD OWES HUGE DEBT TO THEORISTS, REMLEY TELLS CLUB

But Professional Men Need Traders to Get Their Work Before Public

"A business man is fundamentally interested in livelihood and personal gain and the professional man devotes himself to some special line of knowledge," A. C. Remley of the Patton Paper Co. said in an address on Business vs. Professional Men at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club at Hotel Northern Tuesday noon.

"A professional man is a theorist, an idealist and a specialist and the business man is a commercial trader who step by step attempts to capitalize the efforts made in the progress of civilization," declared Mr. Remley. "It was the theorist or professional men who made possible most of our greatest modern inventions such as the radio, the X-ray, but the business men came to the rescue of these theorists and helped make deliveries of the inventions in an economic commercial way so that mankind can enjoy the results of the work of the theorists."

COLUMBUS A THEORIST
Columbus was a theorist, according to Mr. Remley, who was trying to prove his theory that the world was round. King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella were the business traders who financed Columbus' expedition that they might find a shorter trading route with the east and thereby make more money.

"Business men should not refer to professional men in unkind terms as being 'impractical,' 'queer' or 'off on an idealistic or theoretic tangent,' as it is just these men who have lighted you're so flustered about! You know she had a date with Bob."

Without replying, Faith hurried to Cherry's room, jerked open the dresser drawers, glanced into the closet, and then, her worst fears confirmed, ran through the house to the back yard. Without her suitcase she couldn't get far—Then the girl was brought up with a jerk. Junior's car was gone. And he had said he was not going to use it, was going to be out with Fay Allen in her coupe—

She had just reached the Allen home by telephone when her father called out:

"Here's a lady to see Cherry, Faith. Maybe you'd better talk to her."

"Hello, hello!" Faith shook the receiver hook impatiently. "This is Faith Lane, Mrs. Allen. Is Junior—Jimmy Lane there? He and Fay are out in her car, you say? You're sure, Mrs. Allen. Thank you, I'm sorry to have troubled you. When Jimmy comes in, will you ask him to call me, please? Yes, it's important."

She hurried into the living room, wondering who the stranger could be who had come, uninvited and unexpected, to see Cherry.

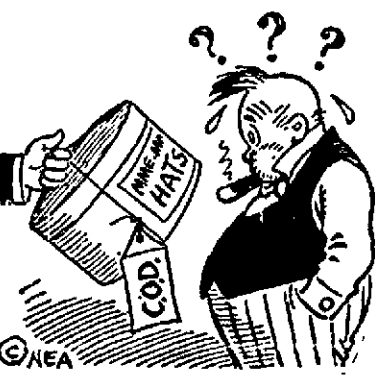

A thin, faded, tremulous little woman in shabby clothes that tried pathetically to be smart, took a hesitating step toward Faith.

"I'm awfully sorry to intrude," she stammered, "but I—I had to try to see Miss Cherry Lane today—your see." and her eyes were suddenly suffused with righteous anger that gave her slight, insignificant body a temporary dignity. "I'm Mrs. Ettleson—Mrs. Albert Ettleson."

the way to improvement all through history," Mr. Remley said. "On the other hand, professional men should remember when criticizing business men as 'hard headed,' 'ever grabbing for the almighty dollar' and using as their shield, 'business is business, that the traders, too, have been essential factors in the progress of civilization."

"The man who discovered X-ray would have passed out of the world unnoticed but for the business man who is producing his apparatus in a commercial way."

"I am inclined to think that the professional man had rendered the greater service to humanity. These men have often been called upon to deny themselves financial and personal gain in the search for truth and enlightenment and such has not been the case with traders. Because of their self sacrifice and in spite of the fact that they have been aided many times by the business men, I believe that we owe a great deal to the professional men who have advanced civilization to its present state."

HOPE TO FINISH STREET REPAIRS BEFORE WINTER

The street department is making an effort to complete street repairs and have roads in good shape for the approaching winter months. Several streets have been graded but because of lack of cinders, surfacing was delayed. At the last meeting of the city council it was decided to purchase gravel to complete work on these streets.

Negotiations were started Wednesday morning to purchase enough material to surface those streets that have been graded. It is hoped that this work will be finished before the first heavy snow.

Several crews of workmen were engaged in preparing the street cleaning equipment for winter use. Plows and shovels were being repaired and made ready for immediate use.

The rest of the men were delegated to clean dead leaves from the street. The leaves are a nuisance as in rainy weather they are washed into the sewers and block them. They are loaded into trucks and dumped into the ravine between W. College-ave and W. Washington-st.

Warmer Days Coming
After a rainfall Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning the temperature rose slightly and the forecast is warmer weather on Thursday. The forecast reads generally fair Wednesday evening and Thursday with rising temperature Thursday.

Don't Squeeze Blackheads — Dissolve Them

Squeezing out blackheads makes large, ugly scars. The safe and sane way to get rid of these blemishes is to dissolve them. Get two ounces of Calomel powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub over the blackheads, and every one, big or little will disappear at once.

In-a-Minute Lemonade Made This Way At Home

MRS. IDA BAILEY ALLEN in her new cook book, (see coupon below), gives a new idea for always having lemonade on hand. First make a syrup—combine two cups (one pint) Karo Red Label, with the juice of nine medium-sized lemons. Pour into a glass jar and cover. This will keep for several days in the ice-box and is an excellent base for punch or iced tea.

When you wish to make Lemonade-in-a-Minute merely measure from two to three tablespoons of the Lemonade Syrup into each glass; add a little crushed ice and fill with cold water. Add more Karo if liked sweeter.

You will note Karo is used instead of granulated sugar because Karo dissolves more quickly in cold or ice water than granulated sugar.

Is Your Child Thin and Weak?

Right Way to Put on Good Flesh and Make Them Grow Up Strong and Vigorous

As a body builder, an appetite creator, and to make weak, skinny boys and girls sturdy, strong and full of energy, there is nothing like Cod Liver Oil—any physician will tell you that.

But it's vile, horrible stuff to take and is apt to upset any stomach, so now doctors are prescribing and wise parents are buying McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—sugar coated, and as easy to take as candy.

The son of George G. O'Brien of Mahwah, N. J., was thin and pale and did not get enough nourishment from his food. In a little over two months, he gained eleven and one-half pounds and feels and looks one-hundred percent better.

Mother, if any of your children are weak, thin or puny, give them these tablets, as directed for 30 days, and watch them gain flesh and health from day to day—they seldom fail—but if the unusual should happen and you are not supremely satisfied with results—your druggist is authorized to return your money.

Be sure—always—to insist on the original and genuine McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—50 tablets 10 cents at Schlitz Bros. or any druggist. Thousands of boxes sold daily.

4th WARD GROCER

Farmer of Freedom, Wis., Got Complete Relief In Three Weeks

Is now ready to recommend Drego to anyone suffering from poor appetite, indigestion, gas in the stomach or heartburn.

No higher praise can be given any medicine than for a person to be so pleased with it themselves that they tell their friends about it. One recommendation like that is worth more than all the propellers of the medicine could say about it. That is the secret of the enormous sales of Drego which is now being introduced by the Drego Expert at Schlitz Bros. Drug Company. Everywhere it is sold people tell their friends of its marvelous powers to restore the vital organs to healthy action.

Read how it helped Mr. Jake Make, the popular Freedom, Wis., farmer. He says:

"Although I am still a young man I have suffered considerably during the past several years with my stomach. No matter how little I ate, and it was mighty little at that, for I had scarcely any appetite, I was sure to suffer with indigestion afterward. My stomach would bloat up with gas and at times it felt like my stomach was filled with hot coals. Sour acids used to rise in my mouth after every meal.

"I read so much of Drego I finally decided to try it and I am now convinced that it is the best medicine anyone in my condition could take. I now have a fine appetite and even though I eat twice as much as I used to I'm now no longer troubled with my stomach in any way. The gas and heartburn have been relieved and I'm never bothered with the acid risings anymore."

Mr. Marr Baker, the well-known expert from the Drego Laboratories, now at Schlitz Bros. Downtown Drug Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Drego for best results. Go to see him.

A NATURAL BORN CITIZEN By Joseph O. Crosson

On music I do, Yet I can't read a note; I can't even whistle a tune; But one thing I've found, On any old hot afternoon.

When business is slow My partner says, "Joe, If sheriffs we are to evade, You'd best take a trip." So promptly I skip To drum up a lot of new trade.

I get orders, too! Between me and you, Of salesmanship, that's THE test. I have just one plan, Which works with each man, I harp on this tune, "We're the best."

And though, as I say, No thing can I play, I get along nicely at that, For often, I find When I've naught on my mind, I play with the band on my hat!

"Kind Friends, it is a real pleasure to stand before you this evening to talk to you on the art of cheerfulness and the joy of human kindness. Mary: Shut up, can't you! Get out of here!-In my own home life, my friends, nothing ever ruffles my calm and placid disposition. I am serene- Ye gods! Get that kid out of here with that drum! I'll go crazy if that hullabaloo keeps up!-In the evening, when the woman that is my life and joy comes in with a question on her sweet lips, I-No, you can't have any money! I need a new suit worse than you need hats! See?-I am never angry. I never allows myself to be disturbed with trifles-I'll drag somebody off that piano stool if they don't stop thump-thumping!"

"After years of loving my fellow men, kind friends, I have nothing but joy in my heart for the wayfarer who knocks at my door. Yes, I take him by the hand and say 'Bless you, brother! Bless you.'-Say, if that's the landlord after the rent, he can jump in the lake, and tell him I said so.-In conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, I want to say that this beautiful way of life has worked wonders for me. I haven't a care in the world.-Get to work on that sock bag! I haven't a pair that's fit to wear!-and am always feeling fit and bubbling over with health. I thank you!-Thank heavens, that's over! Now where the samhill's those headache tablets?"

Man Wants To Eat, Gas Stops Him

"I had gas bloating and was always in misery after eating. Used all kinds of remedies, but got no relief. After taking Adlerika, I was much better, and now I can enjoy a good meal again."—W. Taylor.

Adlerika gives the system a REAL cleansing and brings out old poisons which may have caused trouble for a long time. Unlike most medicines, it acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and takes away that full, bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better. Even if bowels move daily, Adlerika brings out much additional poison which you never thought was in your system and which caused sour, gassy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading drug stores. In Appleton at Voigt's Drug Store and other druggists. adv

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally. Says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine even cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jax Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jax Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. adv

Don't Play Blind Man's Bluff All Your Life!

Do you remember the game "Blind Man's Bluff," you played when you were a child?

When you were blindfolded it was a difficult thing, wasn't it, to put your hands on the person you wanted to find? You were at a distinct disadvantage—having to wear a blindfold—while the other children could see everything that was going on around them.

Many "grown ups"—those who fail to read the classified section of The Post-Crescent's daily—have difficulty in placing their hands on the objects they want.

Others—the wide-awake readers—see everything that is going on around them in the buying and selling world. If YOU are wearing a "blindfold," it's time NOW to take it off.

INDUSTRIAL BOARD

TAKES TESTIMONY
IN DAMAGE CLAIMS

Eleven Cases Scheduled for Hearing Thursday and Friday

Representatives of the Wisconsin Industrial Commission arrived in Appleton Thursday morning to conduct a two day series of hearings in applications for compensation for damages sustained by the petitioners in Fox River Valley industrial plants.

If all the applicants appear before the commission it will represent one of the heaviest calendars of the year. Twelve matters are listed for hearing. Other cases can be taken informally before the state body at their convenience up to late Friday afternoon. It was pointed out.

The cases follow as announced on tele calendar:

Adolph Falk, against the Riverside Fibre and Paper Co.; Carl Hen against the Paul and Pauly Cheese Co.; Harry T. Hove against the Riverside Fibre and Paper Co.; Frank Juneau against the Thimpany Pulp and Paper Co.; Otto Rushman against the Tuttle Press Co.; Hartley L. McGill against Theodore Niles. The foregoing matters were listed for disposition Thursday.

On Friday it is expected the commission will hear the cases of Paul Toms, Sr., against the John Strange Paper Co.; Gerhard Brill against the Valley Iron Works; Fred Krueger against the Robert Paper Co.; Broekman against Mulgrew and Sons Co.; Jack Snider against the Speltzer Roofing Co.; and E. M. Teske against the Seaman Body Corp.

At noon Thursday none of the matters being heard had indicated extreme injuries, it was reported.

KLANSMAN DENIES
ZIMMERMAN STORY

story he politically in order to preserve and perpetuate the Madison ring. Their conduct becomes the more contemptible because it purports to attempt to fan to white hate religious prejudices and racial hatreds. This latest perpetration of lies and conspiracies makes me renew my efforts to smash the Madison ring."

The affidavit of Mr. Kuhlmann, made public Wednesday night as follows:

"I, of Wisconsin, Milwaukee county, ss.

"Herman F. C. Kuhlmann, being first duly sworn, on oath deposes and says, that in the latter part of August 1926, Attorney Ira Lorenz (who is informed and believes was the manager of the campaign of John F. Blaine and Herman L. Ekern for United States senate and governor respectively, during the primary campaign) informed affidavit that one William F. Wiseman had asked him to call on affidavit for the purpose of procuring an affidavit with reference to Fred R. Zimmerman's affiliation with the Ku Klux Klan.

"That thereafter, I was informed by Lorenz that he was an outer guard and did not know and does not now know that Fred R. Zimmerman ever was initiated in the Ku Klux Klan and refused to sign any affidavit but that said Ira Lorenz again returned with Mr. Kuhlmann, a member being elected commissioner of the city of Milwaukee and brought great pressure to bear, whereupon he signed an affidavit that had been 'previously prepared by said Ira Lorenz and was acknowledged before said Lorenz as a notary public.

"That thereafter, said Ira Lorenz again came to affidavit and informed him that the first affidavit was not sufficient or satisfactory to the Madison 'bunch,' that they did not desire to have affidavit acknowledge his affidavit before Lorenz as a notary, but that said affidavit should be acknowledged before a stranger, and that he urged affidavit to sign a second affidavit the contents of which was not read by affidavit, nor did affidavit know what it contained; and affidavit now states that he never was present at any meeting nor did he ever see or know or read the Madison ring, but that he was a member of Provisional Klan No. 1 of the Ku Klux Klan, or see any of the persons named in the affidavit purporting to be signed by him on or about Sept. 20, 1926, officiate at any of the meetings of Provisional Klan No. 1.

"Signed,

"HERMAN F. C. KUHLMANN.

"Subscribed and sworn to before me this way of October 19, 1926, J. L. Roberts, notary public, Milwaukee county, Wis."

CHARGES CONSPIRACY
In a statement issued earlier in the day in reply to the two affidavits made public by the Perry headquarters, Mr. Zimmerman charged a conspiracy between the Madison ring and the Klan to "get" him.

"I am an evangelist; I am an Odd Fellow; I am a Mason; I am a Woodman, and I am a member of the Madison ring of the Ku Klux Klan," declared Mr. Zimmerman. "I filed an affidavit to that effect shortly after the civil service commission hearing."

"Wisconsin knows why the Madison ring wants to get me. That is an open story. However, Wisconsin may not know, but the Klan wants to get me. I will tell Wisconsin why."

Mr. Zimmerman declared that he made a bitter enemy of the Klan when he refused to grant it a charter permitting it to operate within the state.

EKKERN TOOK ACTION
Following my refusal to grant the Klan a charter, Ray Twining, attorney for the Klan, went into a lengthy speech before the Atty. Gen. H. L. Ekern, he continued.

"The result of that conference was an opinion which was practically a mandate by Ekern forcing me to issue the Klan a charter because I held up their charter and refused to act until forced to by the attorney-general of Wisconsin, the Ku Klux Klan of Wisconsin, he threatened to get me out of Wisconsin."

Mr. Zimmerman declared that the affidavits were "prepared at the instigation of Ira Lorenz" in August and that they were pigeonholed until it was found after his nomination that he would not join the Madison ring. He says that the affidavits were then reassessed and handed over to Mr. Perry to use as he saw fit.

The "guillotine" Mr. Perry saw fit to use on the affidavits, he said, "failing to realize that he is the pawn in the latest move by the ring on a political checkerboard in a game played" only for the purpose of "getting" Fred Zimmerman. Mr. Perry's part in the game is negligible and worthy of only "passing notice."

CADY BELIEVES PERRY
Green Bay—(P)—Virgil H. Cady, Barraboo, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, declared here Wednesday night that the affidavits produced by Charles B. Perry, Independent opponent, accusing Fred R. Zimmerman, Republican candidate, of Ku Klux Klan membership was "undoubtedly true."

"The affidavits produced by Mr. Perry are undoubtedly true," Mr. Cady said in reference to the allegation. "If they are not true Mr. Zimmerman has addressed. There is a district attorney in Milwaukee who will prosecute those men for perjury if they have sworn falsely."

As to Mr. Zimmerman's statement that the Klan sought to "get" him for his refusal to grant the organization a charter, Mr. Cady said that the story of the Klan has nothing to say about who shall be given a charter. "The articles of incorporation as first submitted were objectionable when the objectionable features were eliminated the charter was promptly issued," Mr. Cady said.

DEBS DIES AFTER

house but in 1880 he again answered the call of his country.

Debs first came under the political searchlight in 1873, when he served as city clerk at Terre Haute, holding the position until 1883. In 1885 he was elected to the Indiana legislature.

Debs opened his labor activities in 1880 when he was chosen grand secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of the American Railway Union. He directed a strike on the Great Northern railway early in 1894, and in the same year while managing the strike of the western railroads, he was charged with conspiracy but was acquitted. This was the first time his name was in court records as a defendant. He served his first jail sentence at Woodstock, Ill., where he was held six months on a conspiracy of court charge for violation of an injunction.

GAVE LIFE TO CAUSE
Released from jail, Debs urged the workers to "sell your shovel and buy a gun" and announced he would concentrate his life to their emancipation and organizer and traveled all over the United States.

From that time on Debs, the Socialist, rallied round him all the strength the party could muster. In 1900, his first campaign for the presidential chair, he polled 87,514 votes; in 1904, 901,872 and in 1920 nearly 1,000,000. And as the years passed, he grew. Unopposed by a penitentiary sentence, the Socialist party nominated him as its standard bearer while he was a prisoner in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., serving a ten year sentence for violation of the Espionage act during the war.

COULDED FOR SPEECH
Debs' conviction came as the result of a speech he made at Canton, O., in 1918, in which he attacked the government's part in the war and assailed the terms of the Selective Service act, under which the American army was being raised. He was found guilty in Sept. 1918, of trying to obstruct the draft and was sentenced by Federal Judge David C. Weston to ten years in the Moundsville, W. Va. penitentiary. Debs made no effort to prevent the imposition of the penalty. He offered no evidence in his own defense and made his own address to the jury, a clear statement of the facts as he upheld them.

Although Debs made no efforts to resist penalty his friends rallied to his support and the fight to save him was carried to the United States supreme court, which, on March 10, 1919, upheld the conviction. He was taken to Moundsville on April 19, 1919, and a few months later was transferred to Atlanta, Ga.

RELEASED AT CHRISTMAS, 1921
Their Socialist leader finally was commuted by President Harding along with those of 22 others convicted on various charges of having hindered the government during the war.

On being released from prison Debs left immediately for his home in Terre Haute, with a brief stop over in Washington where he again conferred with former Attorney General Daugherty. On his return to Terre Haute he was given a public reception.

WENT INTO SECLUSION
Debs had announced on leaving prison that he expected to rest before making plans for the future and he went into seclusion, taking no part in public politics, except an occasional statement of his views up to the time he went to a Chicago hospital suffering from a nervous breakdown. His climax was not surprising to his friends as they said when he left prison that he looked a broken and much older man than when he had entered. His determination to expose the cause of labor, however, was undaunted by his incarceration or by illness. When the strike of railroad shopmen threatened to paralyze transportation in the summer of 1922, Debs was one of the first to issue a proclamation to the men urging them to stand fast and stand together as the future of their federation was at stake.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Retzlaff of Hilbert, at St. Elizabeth hospital Wednesday night.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Dryer of Dale, at Elizabeth hospital, Wednesday night.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Powers, 101 Second St., Kaukauna, at St. Elizabeth hospital, Wednesday night.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wehrman, 151 1/2 Main-st., Menasha, at St. Elizabeth hospital, Wednesday night.

Scout Meet
The first meeting of the Kaukauna troop of Boy Scouts for the fall season will be held Thursday evening at Kaukauna auditorium, according to P. O. Keicher, valley scout executive. Twenty-nine boys are members of the troop.

BUILDING PERMITS
Only one building permit was granted Wednesday by the city building inspector. It was issued to Henry Doerfler for greenhouse at 515 N. Richmond-st.

APPLETON MAN TALKS
AT BLACK CREEK CHURCH

The Rev. F. Brandt of Appleton will deliver the sermon at the service at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Immanuel Lutheran church at Black Creek in the absence of the Rev. A. F. Herzfeldt, pastor. There will be no services at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

The twenty-first anniversary of dedication of the church will be celebrated on Sunday Oct. 31. There will be two special services. That Sunday, the Rev. William Bergholz of Green Bay, will deliver the sermon at the service at 10 o'clock and the Rev. E. Schluterve of Oshkosh, president of the Wisconsin synod will conduct the English services at 2:30. The ladies of the congregation will serve a chicken dinner and supper in the church parlors.

NOTE IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITION OF CHILDREN'S TEETH

Parents Are Notified if Children Need Attention of Dentists

An improvement in the teeth of the school children of Appleton over last year was shown in the reports of the dental survey made Tuesday by the city dentists, but as all of the records have not been submitted to the school nurse, a statistical report could not be made Thursday.

Notes were sent to parents whose children had defective teeth. If the necessary work could be paid by the parents, they were asked to send the child to the family dentist. Parents whose financial condition would not permit the expense of dental work, were asked to sign the slips sent by the schools and the needed attention will be given free of charge at the free dental clinic sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

The clinic was organized last year to care for the child who could not otherwise have proper dental attention. Parents who could afford to give their children this care have been asked not to sign the slips.

Several of the slips were returned Wednesday and Thursday by the children asking for the attention of the clinic. Appleton dentists will be employed by the Kiwanis club to do the work. The offices of the clinic are located in Lincoln school building and

KING STANDS BY WHILE WIFE AND SONS DANCE

London.—(AP)—King George was a smiling spectator when Queen Mary took the floor at the annual "Gillies ball" and led off the opening reel with one of the higher officials of their Balmoral castle. The queen finished the dance but sat out most of the others—which did not include a modern dance and not even a little bit of jazz.

King George does not dance but Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles danced through most of the evening.

from the teachers will be Miss Maye Holmberg and Miss Josephine Broderick, and alternates, Miss Jean Jackson and Miss Josephine Patten.

E. G. Dowdina, secretary of the state teachers association, will be asked to attend a meeting of the council later in the year to discuss the teachers retirement fund, it was decided. The finances of the organization were discussed and tentative plans were made for future meetings of the association. Most of these will be of a social nature it was thought. The position of C. Willard Cross, formerly assistant principal at Appleton high school, will be taken this year by J. Raymond Walsh, assistant principal. Nine members of the council were present.

CALIFORNIA ROCKED BY EARTHQUAKE

650 KILLED IN CUBAN STORMS, REPORT SAYS

200 Persons Killed, 1,600 Injured, in Havana Alone, Estimate

65,000 MADE HOMELESS

Frantic Appeals for Help Made from Districts Without Food

Havana (AP)—Belated advice reaching Havana Friday indicated that more than 650 persons perished at various places in the provinces of Havana, Matanzas, Santa Clara and Pinar del Rio, in the hurricane which struck the island Wednesday morning. Ten municipalities were wiped out and 6,500 persons were rendered homeless. It is thought the material damage will reach nearly $100,000,000. No definite figures on the total number of hurt on the island were available.

300 DEAD IN VILLAGE

The two villages comprising the municipality of Batabano on the south coast of the island reported more than 300 dead and both towns destroyed. They were the first upon which the hurricane fell when it came out of the Caribbean sea and crossed the tip of Pinar.

Few reports had been received Friday from part of the province of Matanzas, Santa Clara and Pinar del Rio, over which the storm passed, because they were cut off from communications.

MANY ARE INJURED

The survivors in various districts, many of them seriously injured were without food, medicine, and other necessities. Appeals were made for aid. The relief committee have been frantically appealing for help for persons who have been injured by the storm and automobiles have been put into service in efforts to reach interior villages. In Havana all the homeless have been given food and shelter.

Fifteen bodies have been taken out of Havana harbor, bringing the total number of known drowned to 39. Officials believe that fifty or more persons possibly met death in the harbor when the heavy seas and wind destroyed numerous craft.

A preliminary estimate of the monetary damage done to shipping is $5,000,000.

CITY IN DARK

The city is dark and deserted at night. No street cars are running and the electric lights are out.

Three citizens of the town of Guines also have reached Havana. They say they knew of only three persons killed there. Buildings partially razed in Guines included the jail. All the prisoners fled, but shortly after 20 returned and surrendered saying they preferred the jail to the terror of the storm.

SPEAK BY RADIO

West Palm Beach, Fla.—(AP)—The Bahama Islands unheard from since the West Indian hurricane disrupted wireless communication Wednesday midnight were in communication with Miami by radio Friday morning.

U. S. AND EUROPEAN STEEL OWNERS MAY FORM PACT

New York (AP)—Possibility of an amicable understanding between the steel manufacturers of Europe and America in world trade was suggested by Albert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation at the opening session of the American Iron and Steel Institute Friday.

"We have heard recently of considerable discussion relating to anticipated competition between the iron and steel manufacturers of the United States and foreign competitors," he said, "but it is believed that should it become necessary an international conference will be held between all these interests and a full, open discussion indulged in after which a fair understanding could be reached."

MAY BOTTLE BLOOD FOR EMERGENCY, EXPERT SAYS

Cleveland, O.—(AP)—The time is not far away when blood, suitable for use in transfusions, can be obtained in bottles at a drug store. Dr. John I. Yates, Milwaukee, predicted Friday at the convention of the Interstate Post Graduate Medical assembly.

Often when a minute's time balances the life of a patient needing a blood transfusion, a "donor" with the right kind of blood cannot be found. Dr. Yates pointed out. Frequently the difficulty in finding the right "donor" prevents the saving of a life, he continued, explaining the different groupings of the human blood.

Scientists in Prague, Bohemia, Dr. Yates said, have perfected a centrifugal washing press of blood serum which is so profound that it will render suitable even the blood of an ox and sheep which, if transfused in natural state would bring almost instant death.

WATSON TESTIFIES IN KLAN HEARING

MISSOURI MAY ELECT HAWES TO U. S. SENATE

Republican Votes in St. Louis Likely to Give Democrat Victory

Copyright 1926, by Post Pub. Co.

St. Louis, Mo.—The Democrats may gain a seat in the United States senate through the election of Harry Hawes of Missouri, but if they do so it will be by the aid of Republican votes—mostly in St. Louis.

This anomalous situation is the direct result of the extraordinary influence exerted in this state by Senator James Reed, whose ardent supporters and admirers are encouraging the belief that he has a good chance to win the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928. If Harry Hawes wins, it will be an exhibition of Reed power second only to the come-back he staged in 1922 after having been ostracized by the Wilsonian Democracy and refused a seat in the Democratic national convention at San Francisco in 1920.

This is one of those peculiar situations wherein the campaign is viewed oppositely by the respective headquarters.

SOME BET ON HAWES

If you get in the inside of the Republican campaign, you hear tales of insufficient funds, of disorganization, due to the alleged influence of the Klan, which is supposed to be favorable to Senator George Williams, Republican nominee, and of the inadequate support given Mr. Williams by some of the hitherto staunch and stalwart Republican newspapers in "false" by Attorney General Herman L. Ekern in a statement today.

Now turn to the inside of the Democratic campaign, and the writer was told that "only a miracle can save Hawes from defeat," that Jim Reed has torn the Democracy of the state wide open and that the old Wisconsin strength in the state is so resentful of his influence and ambitions that much of the Democratic vote will stay at home as a protest, thus allowing Senator Williams to reap the benefit thereof. The story is told

PINDLE ENTERS U. S. BILLIARD TOURNEY

Appleton Man One of Ten Selected to Compete in Philadelphia

Philadelphia (AP)—Ten men were selected by the national tournament committee Thursday night to contest for the national pocket billiard championship, vacated last year by Frank Taborski, Schenectady, N. Y., in a tournament to be held at the Elk's auditorium here from Nov. 6 to 17.

Those selected are Taborski, Ralph Greenleaf, New York; Andre St. Jean, Minneapolis; Erwin Ruppel, Chicago; Arthur Woods, Pawtucket, R. I.; P. Natalie, Baltimore; H. C. Pindle, Appleton; Charles Harman, Glendale, N. Y.; Andrew Ponzl, Philadelphia; and Harry Oswald, Pittsburgh.

WAUSAU MAN REELECTED ACCOUNTANT PRESIDENT

Wausau (AP)—The convention of the accountants' section of the Wisconsin Public Utilities association closed Friday noon after luncheon at the Hotel Wausau. Frank R. Eckert, Wausau, was reelected chairman, and Emil Jorgenson, Racine, vice chairman.

RECOVER BODIES OF SLAIN MICHIGAN GAME WARDENS

Marquette, Mich.—(AP)—The bodies of Arvid Erickson and Emil Skoglund, game wardens who had been missing since Sept. 29, were recovered in Lake Superior here early Friday. They were found shortly after Roy Nunn, ex-convict had confessed to state police that he had killed them. The bodies were weighted down with sacks filled with bricks and were in 18 feet of water under the spear coal dock. Nunn, who had been held on suspicion for more than two weeks, admitted after much questioning by police that he had shot the wardens and then hidden their bodies.

Nunn led the officers to the coal dock and the lake bottom was dragged.

According to the story pieced together by the police Nunn, who had been paroled from the Marquette pri-

QUEEN MARIE WILL TALK OVER RADIO TONIGHT AT WEAF

New York (AP)—Queen Marie will talk to the American people by radio Friday night through a chain of 21 stations east of the Rocky Mountains. From 8:30 to 9 o'clock she will be before the microphone of WEAF.

The royal party is due a half hour earlier at the Commodore hotel for a banquet given in honor of the queen by the Iron and Steel Board of Trade. Afterward she is to go to supper at the Fifth Avenue home of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation. She had an appointment for luncheon at the bankers club at 12:30 upon her arrival from Philadelphia and for a reception by the national board of the Young Women's Christian association after the luncheon.

Queen Marie's radio talk will be relayed to Chicago and broadcasted from WGN of the Chicago Tribune. Listeners will be tuning in at 7:30 central standard time.

ZIMMERMAN IS TELLING LIES, EKERN WRITES

Former Candidate Says Victorious Foe Did Not Make Enemy of Klan

Madison (AP)—A statement by Fred R. Zimmerman, Republican gubernatorial nominee that he had made an enemy of the Ku Klux Klan by refusing it a charter was characterized as "false" by Attorney General Herman L. Ekern in a statement today.

Mr. Zimmerman charged the "Madison Ring" and the Ku Klux Klan with combining to oppose him, in a statement Wednesday.

"The statement given to the public press by Fred R. Zimmerman that he made a bitter enemy of the Ku Klux Klan by refusing it a charter is absolutely false," declared the attorney general.

"There was no such refusal by Mr. Zimmerman. The Ku Klux Klan has not been his enemy. The story of Klan enmity toward Mr. Zimmerman is obviously made out of whole cloth to bolster his statements that he has not been a member of the Klan."

"Fred R. Zimmerman falsified in his statement when he said that, as attorney general, I selected an attorney to appear for him before the civil service commission in the Cobban matter. Mr. Zimmerman falsified again when he said the attorney general concurred in the advice upon the question whether he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan."

"During a political experience of more than thirty years, I have made it a principle never to indulge in personalities or to impugn the character of my political opponents. Maintaining that principle, I have been deceived."

GREG, EX-BOXING CHAMP, IS DEAD IN NEW JERSEY

Atlantic City, N. J.—(AP)—Harry Greg, former middleweight boxing champion of the world, died here Friday afternoon following an operation.

He was operated upon for a fracture of the bone at the top of his nose near the floor of the skull the result of an automobile accident a week ago in Pittsburgh. He failed to recover from the anesthetic.

REED GOES TO HOSPITAL TO SEE SENATOR

Indiana Senator Is Too Ill to Leave Bed for Committee Probe

Indianapolis (AP)—Discovery Friday of a large box containing hundreds of documents pertaining to D. C. Stephenson's personal affairs gave new impetus to the grand jury investigation of charges that Stephenson, while grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, entered into corrupt deals with high officials. The box, weighing 1,300 pounds, was found at a storage house and was taken to the grand jury room.

Indiana (AP)—Senator James A. Reed, chairman of the senate investigation committee which is looking into charges of political corruption in Indiana, Friday took the testimony of Senator James E. Watson in the latter's room at the Methodist hospital here. Only Senator Reed, Senator Watson and the official stenographer were present. Senator Reed said after he had questioned Senator Watson he would read to the newspaper men the official transcript of the testimony.

Sensor Watson has been confined to the hospital for about two weeks as a result of an automobile accident and Thursday appeared to Senator Reed to hold hearings in Indianapolis because of the Indiana senator's inability to go to Chicago. Senator Reed arrived here Friday morning and immediately went to the hospital.

UNSAFE TO MOVE WATSON

When he called on Senator Watson, Senator Reed was informed that the senior Indiana senator's condition was such that it would not be safe to move him. Senator Watson's pulse was over 100 and when Senator Reed reached the hospital he found two doctors and a nurse in attendance upon his chief witness.

Sensor Watson, in inviting the senate campaign funds committee chairman to come to Indianapolis, declared that "false and slanderous" charges had been made against him by former officials of the Ku Klux Klan in testimony given before the committee in Chicago. He reiterated his declaration in his testimony to Senator Reed and presented a statement which he declared fully supported his accusations.

Besides hearing Senator Watson in his hospital bed, the committee also planned to question Senator Robinson, Republican candidate for reelection, who it has been charged, also has the support of the Klan, and W. Lee Smith, grand dragon of the Indiana realm of that organization.

CHICAGO GANGSTERS SIGN "PEACE" PACT

"Scarface" Capone Rides Home "Without Fear of Machine-gun"

Chicago (AP)—Al "Scarface" Capone, reputed ruler of the vice lands of Cicero, rode home "alone" Friday morning, "without fear that any minute I'd get a machine gun in my face," after signing a gang "peace treaty" in a loop hotel.

"Gangland's killings have come to an end in Chicago," he told a reporter for the Herald and Examiner after a two hour conference with representatives of a powerful northside band, at which "all shook hands and made up, remembering the old days when all were in one mob and happy."

The final gathering was held, Capone said, after a preliminary conference between himself and an intermediary had paved the way.

The peace, if peace it remains, came while police still were investigating the tangled clues surrounding the recent machine gun slaying of Hyacinthe Weiss, successor to Dion O'Banion as ruler of the northside band of gangsters and liquor runners.

SUPERIOR POLICE HUNT LOOT OF POSTOFFICE

Superior (AP)—For five months Superior police have been combing the woods near a farmhouse, 25 miles south of here, seeking $35,000 in stamps believed planted there by yeggs who last November robbed the postoffice here of over $20,000 in cash and stamps. It was revealed Friday.

Charles Bennett, now serving a term in Vaupur for robbing a filling station, in a signed statement to Chief A. E. Buchanan said he took part in the robbery, told who the other four were who were in the job and described minutely the operations of the gang, the night of the robbery.

Bennett said $35,000 in stamps was buried near his farm. Police have been unable to find it. They have the names of the other yeggs as given by Bennett.

"Little Wolf Girls" Are Rescued From Den In India

Abandoned by Human Mother, Were Adopted by Savage She Wolf

London (AP)—Two "little wolf girls" were found recently living in a wolf's den near an isolated village in Bengal, British India. The story is told by the Westminster Gazette, which received it from India vouched for by the Rev. Jal Singh of Midnapur Bengal, and Bishop Pakenham, Wash., of Bishop's college, Calcutta.

Bishop Walsh relates that about the end of August while visiting Jal Singh's orphanage at Midnapur, Singh recounted how he discovered the "wolf girls."

In a distant part of his district the villagers pointed out to him a path they avoided because it was haunted by demons. Investigation revealed a wolf den in which there several wolf cubs and two girls about two and eight years of age, both exceedingly fierce, running on all fours, uttering guttural howls and living like wolves.

The supposition was that they were abandoned as babies by their mother or mothers and were found and adopted by the she wolf. With much difficulty the children were rescued, but the younger died soon afterward. The elder child survived and now is at the orphanage. She was gradually weaned from her savage ways, but fought fiercely against wearing clothes, which she tore off even after they were sewn on her. For a time she refused to be washed and ate with her mouth in a dish. But eventually she was taught to use her hands and say a few words.

SEEK PROOF OF SHACK IN HOAX CASE HEARING

Ex-judge Identifies Mrs. Kimball as Woman Who Signed Paper

Los Angeles (AP)—Proof that a shack exists on the arid wastes in northern Mexico, like the one in which Aimee Semple McPherson says she was held captive by kidnappers, is sought in testimony of several defense witnesses summoned to take the stand Friday on resumption of the evangelist's preliminary hearing on criminal conspiracy charges.

Seven witnesses testified for the defense Thursday at the preliminary hearing for the Angeleno temple pastor and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy.

IDENTIFIES MRS. KIMBALL
J. A. Bardin, ex-judge, one of Mrs. McPherson's attorneys, positively identified Mrs. Viola Kimball of Oakland, twin sister of Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Slifer, a co-defendant in the conspiracy charges, as the woman who signed an affidavit in his office at Salinas, Aug. 15, last, to the effect that she, and not Mrs. McPherson, shared a seaside cottage at Carmel last May with Kenneth G. Ormiston, former Angeleno temple radio operator.

Mrs. Kimball, who preceded Judge Bardin on the witness stand, was equally positive she had not signed the affidavit.

SOCIALIST LEADER PAID LAST TRIBUTE

Citizens of All Estates Do Simple Honor to Eugene V. Debs

Terre Haute, Ind.—(AP)—Citizens of all estates paid Friday to do simple honor to Eugene V. Debs. The hero of the Socialist leader lay in state in the Labor temple throughout the day.

Eugene V. Debs, five times presidential candidate of his party, and twice a convict because of tenacity to his principles, became just "Gene" Debs when once more he was among the home folk. Terre Haute's hero was to the Debs that James Whitcomb Riley, the "Hoosier poet," knew for years and loved. Of Debs Riley said:

"God was feelin' mighty good when he created 'Gene Debs and he didn't have anything else to do all day." Funeral services will be held Saturday.

CLAIM TAX-FREE BODIES SHOULDN'T SERVE MEALS

Madison (AP)—A resolution protesting against serving of meals to the public by religious or other organization which are not taxpayers, was before the convention of the Northwestern Hotel Men's association here Friday morning.

Supporters of the resolution argued that such organizations as the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are "making huge inroads of legitimate business" by offering competition to hotels and restaurants.

FRENCH MURDERESS SEES KNIFE OF GUILLOTINE

Donai, France (AP)—Mme. Melanthe Duverette has been sentenced to die on the guillotine for having poisoned her husband. The jury departed from the usual leniency shown to women, owing to the nature of the crime.

Mme. Duverette slowly killed her husband by daily putting poison in his coffee. She desired to marry a Portuguese soldier who fought in the Moroccan campaign. The soldier was sentenced to five years imprisonment as an accomplice of the woman.

It is considered improbable that Mme. Duverette will go to the knife as President Doumergue invariably commutes death sentences passed upon women.

FINANCIER, DIES

John G. Shedd

SHEDD, NOTED CHICAGOAN, IS DEAD, AGE 76

Business Genius Contributed to Growth of Marshall Field and Co.

Chicago (AP)—John G. Shedd, financier and merchant, who died early Friday at St. Luke's hospital where an emergency operation was performed in an effort to stay a relapse after an operation for appendicitis. He was 76.

The first operation was performed only after consultations, because of Mr. Shedd's advanced years, but he appeared to be improving until his condition suddenly became critical. He died shortly before 4 o'clock Friday morning.

Mr. Shedd was chairman of the board of Marshall Field and Co., one of the numerous important posts he held after a romance of hard work for a boy who left his farm home near Alstead, N. H., to start his business career as a grocery clerk in Vermont.

During his administration of the great concern he introduced the Saturday half holiday to Chicago.

MADE GIFT TO CITY

A large fund for the funding of a municipal aquarium was his recent gift to the city.

To the business genius of Mr. Shedd was credited a large measure of the success behind the growth of Marshall Field and Co. from a small retail dry goods house in the world in the present decade. To Mr. Shedd was credited the business creed which developed the store to an enterprise employing close to 25,000 persons, with a record of having served more than 300,000 customers in a single day.

STOCK PRICES PLUNGE DOWN IN BEAR ATTACK

New York (AP)—Stock prices plunged abruptly downward again Friday as professional traders launched an attack against the motor shares, several of which were carried to new low levels for the year. The declines ranging from one to extremes of ten points, wiped out most of Thursday's gains scored at the expense of hurried short interests. Liquidation of the motor issues followed the announcement of a smaller September output of cars and lower third quarter earnings by Chrysler and other manufacturers.

WRIGHT AND DANCER GET Bail; Hearing Is Oct. 30

Minneapolis (AP)—Frank Lloyd Wright, noted architect, and Mme. Olga Milanoff, his companion were released from the county jail here Friday when they furnished $12,500 bonds on charge of violating the Mann act. The hearing was set for Oct. 30.

Immediately after their release Wright was taken into municipal court to answer charge that he is a fugitive of justice as he is wanted on a Wisconsin warrant charging adultery.

With tears trickling down her face, Mme. Milanoff declared that despite all their troubles she "would love Wright always."

Although reputed to be immensely wealthy Wright was unable to furnish bonds for the couple's release late Thursday, and he told his counsel he could think of no one here who could be brought in to furnish the bond until Friday.

Wright and Mme. Milanoff were arraigned separately and did not meet. Wright first was brought from the county jail to the federal building to answer the charges filed by La Fayette French, Jr., United States district attorney.

Through his attorney he waived reading of the complaint and pleaded not guilty. As the deputy left for the county jail with Wright, he was handed a warrant for the arrest of Mme. Milanoff.

As they prepared to leave the commissioner's office an attorney for Valdemar Hinzenberg of Chicago divorced husband of Mme. Milanoff stepped forward and demanded immediate custody of Svetlana, the 9-year-old daughter of the Hinzenbergs. Mme. Milanoff's attorney refused.

WIFE WON'T DIVORCE HIM

Chicago (AP)—Miriam Noel Wright is willing to aid the prosecution of Mann act violation charges against Frank Lloyd Wright, but not to divorce him.

Although she has been bled and has brought countersuit for divorce from the architect under arrest with Mme. Milanoff, at Minneapolis Mrs. Wright is now convinced that Wright "will be better off if he remained married than if divorced."

LITTLE LOSS REPORTED BY LARGE CITIES

Two Violent Tremors, Followed by Lighter Shock, Rock Territory

WIDE AREA AFFECTED

Large Buildings Sway Like Trees During Heavy Earth Movements

San Francisco (AP)—Two violent earthquakes rocked central coast counties of California Friday morning just an hour apart. The first shock was at 4:36 and lasted about twenty seconds. The second was 5:36 and was much sharper but lasted only about 15 seconds. No injuries and no serious damage had been reported from either. A third lighter shock was felt at 6:42 Friday morning.

The center of the shocks appeared to be between San Francisco and Monterey bay. The tremors were felt as far south as San Luis Obispo, approximately 250 miles from San Francisco and as far north as Napa, 50 miles from here. They were also felt at Stockton, 90 miles east and south.

LARGE CITIES AFFECTED

In San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose, the largest cities affected, large buildings swayed like trees, driving people in the streets and parks for safety. Hotel guests were shaken from their slumbers.

The quake appeared to move in a north-south direction along the old fault which caused the trouble in the quake of 1906.

At the Palace hotel, one of the largest hostleries in the city, plate glass windows were broken, plaster cracked from ceilings and heavy cracks appeared in the lobby floor.

CLOCKS ARE STOPPED

At the New Bulletin building where the Associated Press offices are located clocks were stopped by the quake. The building was shaken from the pots in the stereotyping room, and furniture jangled around.

The police department said no reports of injuries or property damage had been received. The city of San Jose, 50 miles southeast, was badly shaken, according to reports received by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

Napa, 50 miles to the north felt a terrific earth wrench, as did Oakland, across the bay from here.

Through the earthquake shocks, which rocked San Francisco Friday morning, the telephone operators of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company remained at their posts and kept calm. They gave alarmed inquiries cheerful advice and procured information for the Associated Press and made long distance connections as though nothing had happened.

"Aren't you girls afraid," one operator was asked.

"I'll say we are," was the reply, "but we're sticking."

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company's building, tallest structure in the city, rising 400 feet in the air, was virtually unaffected.

Santa Barbara, which suffered in the 1925 quake, apparently did not feel Friday's tremors.

Inquiries developed the quakes were not felt in the northwestern states of Oregon, and Washington. Fresno, Los Angeles and San Diego also escaped them.

PLAYS QUEER PRANKS

Oakland, Calif.—(AP)—The earthquake, which shook Oakland along with San Francisco Friday morning played some queer pranks. In the Schlesinger department store, one of the largest in the city, a wax model in one of the display windows died a cross between the chimney and the Charleston when the first shock came. The model plunged through a large plate glass window in the street and was decapitated.

The master clock in the city hall tower which regulates other clocks in the city was stopped at 4:37 A. M. when the first shock was felt.

The top of the Flax mill on the city hall fell and could not be found. Power wires at the Alameda Municipal Light works were broken. Guests fled from the hotels but no injuries were reported.

HOOPER WILL SPEAK ON U. S. POST-WAR PROGRESS

Chicago (AP)—America's progress in reconstruction from the losses of the war is the theme which Herbert Hoover secretary of commerce, will carry to six western states between now and election day.

Secretary Hoover reached Chicago Friday after speaking for Republican party Thursday at Springfield, Ohio. He will talk in Duluth, Toledo, Denver, Salt Lake City and California, concluding his trip in time to vote in his home state Nov. 2.
